

James P. Mitchell, New Jersey, Named Secretary Of Labor

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—James P. Mitchell was sworn in today as secretary of labor and attended his first Cabinet meeting.

Mitchell, 52-year-old former New York City department store executive with long experience in labor relations, took the oath in ceremonies at the White House as President Eisenhower looked on.

The New Jersey Republican, who says he is "neither a plumber nor a millionaire," had been assistant secretary of the Army until Eisenhower announced the new appointment Thursday.

Poses With President
"You're about to go to your first Cabinet meeting," Eisenhower smiled as he posed for pictures with Mitchell.

Among those present were Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, and AFL union leaders Richard J. Gray and Joseph L. Keenan, along with members of Mitchell's family.

The oath was administered by Percy Nelson, a member of the White House staff.

Mitchell succeeds Martin P. Durkin, a Democrat, who quit a month ago and returned to his job as AFL Plumbers Union president.

Durkin complained that Eisenhower had broken a pledge to recommend to Congress a set of 19 proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley labor relations law. Eisenhower later said he had never knowingly broken a promise to any associate.

Long Experience

While Durkin was in the Cabinet, administration critics claimed it was composed entirely of millionaires except for one plumber, Durkin.

In announcing the appointment to his news conference Thursday, Eisenhower praised Mitchell's ability and long experience in handling labor relations problems. Mitchell himself promised to try "to the best of my ability to do the best possible job for the people of the United States."

The selection was generally acclaimed by Republicans and Democrats and by some union leaders. However, AFL Vice president Al Hayes, who heads the AFL Machinists Union, called the choice of Mitchell "incredible"—the same word used by the late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) when Eisenhower picked Durkin.

Reuther Gives O. K.

CIO President Walter Reuther said Mitchell enjoys "a good reputation" among unions. But he said Mitchell's "good will" would get nowhere unless the administration

Taxes To Be Cut For 58 Million Starting Jan. 1

By CHARLES F. BARRETT
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite continued high defense spending and acute budget problems, the government plans to give about 58 million individual income taxpayers a tax cut starting Jan. 1.

The reduction, the first since 1948, will be about 10 per cent for the great bulk of taxpayers. The percentage drops sharply in the higher income brackets—down to only 1 per cent for a single man making one million dollars a year.

Wait A Year

The prospective cut follows two increases voted after the Korean War started. It merely cancels the second increase, in 1951. So you'll still be paying more than you did, say, in 1949.

Revenue officials point out the reduction starts on Jan. 1. But you don't file returns on 1954 income until 1955. So when you fill out those returns next March, you'll still be dealing with 1953 income — at the higher rate.

The immediate effect will be on some 46 million workers whose income taxes are deducted from paychecks. After Jan. 1, the payroll withholding rate will be reduced from 20 per cent to 18 per cent of your income, after allowances for yourself and each dependent.

Reduction Substantial

Dollarwise, for a worker with no dependents, the annual reduction amounts to $8.80 at $1,000 income, $54.40 at $3,000, $108 at $5,000, $212 at $8,000, $292 at $10,000, $20 at $20,000, $2,890 at $100,000 and $13,768 at one million dollars.

For a married couple with two dependents, the dollar reductions would be $13.20 at $3,000 income, $57.20 at $5,000, $129.60 at $8,000, $181.60 at $10,000, $536 at $20,000, $4,120 at $100,000 and $13,768 at one million dollars.

The minimum rate on taxable income drops from 22.2 per cent to 2 per cent. The maximum rate on income about $300,000 drops from 92 to 91 per cent. The maximum rate for any one taxpayer's overall income drops from 88 to 87 per cent.

Great Chicago Fire Anniversary Today

CHICAGO (AP)—Today was the 82nd anniversary of the great Chicago fire and the fire department arranged a ceremony at the site where the fire reportedly started.

That site is at 558 DeKoven St., where Mrs. O'Leary's cow on Oct. 9, 1871, may or may not have kicked over a lantern and started the fire. The metal plaque marking the site will be removed from the building and turned over to the Chicago Historical Society. The present building is to be torn down.

New York U. Bans Greek Letter Clubs On Its 33 Campuses

NEW YORK (AP)—The State University of New York has banned national social fraternities and sororities from its 33 campuses in a campaign against alleged racial and religious bias.

In its crackdown Thursday on Greek letter societies, two sororities were suspended at the State University Teachers College at Cortland. The sororities involved said they already had broken off with their national groups.

Payments Start On Activities Tax

LANSING (AP)—First payments under Michigan's new business activities tax are being received today as the State Revenue Department prepared for a final public hearing on regulations governing the new levy.

The first quarter payment is due Oct. 31.

The department said the first payment was made by the Higgins Pontiac Co. of Ferndale, owned by Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale), the sponsor of the tax. It was filed Oct. 3.

Deputy Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock said more than 100,000 return forms had been mailed to prospective taxpayers. He conceded some of those receiving the forms may not be liable for the tax.

Lock warned that failure to receive forms in the mail will not relieve any taxpayer of liability for the tax.

The department plans a hearing on rules for the new tax in the Senate chambers here Monday at 1:30 p. m.

William Carlson, president of the state university, said Jews and Negroes were denied membership in some societies and added:

"Although they all claim a clean bill of health and declare that the organization does not discriminate and that anyone is eligible for membership, unfortunately we cannot take these assurances at face value."

"The real problem is not the formal, written restrictive provisions in constitutions, by-laws and so forth, but the actual pernicious practices based upon informal and unwritten tacit understandings and agreements."

Has 32,000 Students

Carlson said sororities and fraternities could be policed more easily for discrimination if removed from national groups.

The sororities suspended at Cortland were Sigma Sigma Sigma and Alpha Sigma Alpha.

Mary Chmura, president of the local chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha, said the sorority withdrew from the national society last June in a dispute over discrimination.

Jean Maynard, president of the Sigma Sigma Sigma chapter, said her group withdrew from the national organization a year and a half ago.

Miss Maynard said all creeds were represented in the local group's membership.

The State University of New York has 32,000 students.

Polio Vaccine Ready For Test

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Reporter

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Perfection of an experimental polio vaccine to a point justifying inauguration of tests on hundreds of thousands of children, perhaps early next year, was announced today.

It's the vaccine whose development first was announced last spring by Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Pittsburgh.

Today's announcement disclosed that additional preliminary research on humans since last spring has greatly strengthened hopes for the vaccine.

Dr. Salk made the historic announcement that science had at last achieved a material safe, potent and promising enough to be put to the acid test of determining whether it protects against the disease under natural conditions of exposure. He said large-scale production was possible.

He told the American Academy of Pediatrics that the vaccine proven to be capable of preventing polio in experimental animals—has now been tested in 637 humans. Tests demonstrated that the vaccine can produce in man antibodies theoretically protective against the major viruses of polio, and also demonstrated the safety of the vaccine itself.

But he emphasized that it's now necessary to determine whether the vaccine can actually protect against the disease in nature.

Crashes Into Bar

Game Law Violator Policy Misunderstood

LANSING (AP)—Conservation Director G. E. Eddy today tried to clear up a misunderstanding about the department policy on releasing names of law violators.

The Michigan Press Association released a letter from him in which he said the department headquarters in Lansing has never been forbidden to release the names after officers reported convictions.

Mystery Hoodlum May Hold Key In Brutal Kansas City Kidnaping

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Funeral services were held for slain 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf today at the same hour as his kidnapers, manacled together, were arraigned in St. Louis on federal extortion charges.

Carl Austin Hall, 34, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, were ordered held on $100,000 bail each on a federal extortion charge pending determination of the next step in their case.

Face Death Penalty

The Justice Department announced in Washington Thursday that the State of Missouri would be given jurisdiction in the case since it appeared no state lines had been crossed by the kidnapers.

Missouri has the death penalty for both murder and kidnaping.

As the grim proceedings were taking place before U. S. Commissioner Edwin J. Bean of St. Louis, services were conducted for the murdered child in St. Agnes Catholic church in suburban Johnson County, Kan.

About 100 close friends of the family attended a silent prayer service at a funeral chapel, after which a requiem high mass was conducted at St. Agnes Catholic church.

Blind Mother May See Baby

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP)—One day soon a 23-year-old Kimball mother may see her husband and her baby for the first time.

A series of operations which could bring an end to Mrs. Merle Peterson's blindness of 18 years has already begun.

"I can only hope for the best," she said Thursday, fondling her 3-month-old daughter, Valerie Rose. "I have been blind so long, I can stand it if things don't go right, but I would like to see."

To help her get that wish, the Lions Club of this western Nebraska town of 2,048 raised $331 for an operation and took her to a Denver specialist. He said an operation might open the pupils of her eyes for partial sight. The right eye was operated on three weeks ago.

"I can distinguish between light and dark when I hold my fingers in front of my eye," Mrs. Peterson said. "It pained a lot when I first saw a bit of light, but I was thrilled."

Born near Benton, Ill., Mrs. Peterson lost her sight when she was 5. She met her husband through a correspondence club. They were married in January, 1952. He is employed at the Sioux Ordnance Depot near Sidney, Neb., 37 miles east of Kimball.

coast were on the alert for the mysterious figure who may hold the key to unanswered questions in the kidnaping.

The FBI said it had taken the action pending clarification of inconsistencies in statements made by Hall and Mrs. Heady.

Hall admitted kidnaping the lad. But he denied killing Bobby, whose body was dug out of a shallow grave in the yard of Mrs. Heady's St. Joseph, Mo., home Wednesday. The 37-year-old Hall told officers he turned the boy over to Marsh on the day of the kidnaping.

Nation Prepares To Meet Future Atomic Attack

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says Russia possesses an increasing capability of delivering an atomic attack on the United States, but he does not think the threat of war shadows America's doorstep now.

In the fullest official U. S. statement since Moscow claimed mastery of the awesome hydrogen bomb, the President said Thursday the Soviets have "a weapon, or the forerunner of a weapon, of power far in excess of the conventional (atomic) types."

Eisenhower's assurance at his news conference that his administration is moving to meet this situation was generally applauded by lawmakers.

Stockpile Growing

But Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the President may have created "another layer of secrecy on all too secret a subject." Complaining that Eisenhower said nothing of continental defenses, Kefauver asked for a Senate Armed Services Committee hearing on this.

In a formal statement at his news conference, Eisenhower also: 1. Announced that he has asked all members of his administration "to refrain from comment on Soviet nuclear capabilities unless they first check their statements" with Strauss, the Atomic Energy Commission chairman.

2. Declared the U. S. atomic stockpile "is large and increasing steadily," and that it includes weapons for use in the specific tasks assigned the Army, Navy and Air Force.

Experts Watch Soviets

Sens. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), among others, agreed there is no imminent prospect of a Russian atomic attack on this country.

Sen. Green (D-RI) applauded Eisenhower's clampdown on varying statements from administration officials on the probability of any such attack.

Eisenhower's statement said: "In August, we learned through intelligence channels of a Soviet test of an atomic device in which some part of the explosive force was derived from thermonuclear

Attorney Quiets Client With Club

CONNERSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Lawyer George Kerrigan, court-appointed to defend John Sematic on charges of failure to provide and non-support, expected trouble in court Thursday and was ready.

Sematic, who had been in court previously on similar charges, went into action when he heard Judge Allen Wiles impose a $500 fine and a six-month jail sentence. He hit Prosecutor Hugh Russell in the jaw and kicked and clawed everyone in reach.

Kerrigan, who said later he had expected just such an outbreak, pulled a blackjack from his pocket and knocked out Sematic. After order was restored Judge Wiles added a 1-to-7 year sentence.

Coaxing Reluctant Prisoners In Korea May Start Monday

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Allies today offered a compromise plan that could get explanations to reluctant prisoners of war started by Monday.

The U. N. Command said it is willing to work round-the-clock to cut the time of building temporary explanation centers for the Communists from seven to five days.

The Reds will use the centers to interview 22,600 Chinese and North Koreans who have refused to return to communism.

The Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in a letter Thursday indirectly accused the Allies of trying to stall the start of Red persuasion attempts in an effort to cut down the explanation period, which ends Christmas Eve.

Both sides built explanation facilities before the scheduled Sept. 26 starting date, but each rejected the other's construction.

The Reds said the U.N.-built center was located so that the Communist representatives would have to travel too close to stockades holding violently anti-Red POWs. The NNRC asked the UNC to build a new one.

British Remove Reds In Guiana

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—The British government announced plans today to suspend British Guiana's 6-month-old constitution and to oust six People's Progressive party members of the Cabinet to keep this colony from becoming a "Communist state."

The six ousted ministers, headed by Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, had threatened to appeal their dispute with Britain to London, Washington and the United Nations.

A Colonial Office announcement in London said the British governor, Sir Alfred Savage, had been given emergency powers. British troop reinforcements already were on guard around government offices and major British-owned properties in Georgetown. The British aircraft carrier Implacable was due to sail Saturday from Britain with 600 men of the famed Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, battle-tested veterans of the Korean fighting.

Jagan had denounced the troop arrivals as a "show of force." He said he would go abroad for support for his party's demand for more self-rule.

There were no immediate demonstrations.

The Colonial Office statement charged Jagan's party with the objective of turning "British Guiana into a totalitarian state subordinate to Moscow and a dangerous platform for extending Communist influence in the Western Hemisphere."

Coin Decides Tied Up North Pole Elections

NORTH POLE, Alaska (AP)—Electing a mayor and city council for this town 14 miles South of Fairbanks turned into the doggonedest mixup you ever saw.

Everett Dahl and James Ford were running for mayor and when the votes were counted they both had 20. Then they found out that two of the four council races had a tie vote, too. They were 31-31 and 28-28.

They straightened it out Thursday with the deadlocked candidates standing in front of the election judges who settled the problem by tossing a coin.

It's Mayor Dahl now.

Three Inducted; Nov. Cail Is 5

The three men reporting for induction at Milwaukee Oct. 7 from the local draft board office were accepted and sent to Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., for their basic training. Clerk Mary Wagner reports. A fourth man was transferred to Marquette.

The inductees are William Henry Anderson, 1214 N. 22nd St.; Thomas Daniel Wilfong, 1301 Dakota Ave., Gladstone; and Donald Albin Nygaard, Gladstone. The one, Denis Michael Harju of Rock had his order transferred to Marquette.

Nine men of the 15 reporting for pre-induction Oct. 7 at Milwaukee were accepted. Three of the men were transferred, two men failed to meet the requirements and one man was reclassified.

Those who passed their pre-induction examinations are Thomas Lee Coyne, Roderick Thomas McGillis and John Oakman Schaut, all of Escanaba; Richard Joseph Derusha, George Henry Ryan, David Lee Snowart, Edward Lee Thomma and Roger Joseph Tourangeau, all of Gladstone, and Kent John Chayer of Fayette.

The orders of Paul Theodore Baldwin were transferred to Ann Arbor, those of Francis Thomas Ozmae were transferred to Detroit and Randolph Rushton's orders were transferred to Wilmington, Del.

The November call for 5 men for induction and 15 men for pre-induction has been received by the draft board. These men will report Nov. 4th for induction and examination at Milwaukee Nov. 5. The orders for induction and pre-induction will be mailed within a week.

Auto Hits Ditch; Soo Hill Man Hurt

MARQUETTE—An automobile was wrecked and its owner was seriously injured in an unusual accident which occurred about 8 Wednesday night on Highway US-41, about three miles west of the city, but which was not discovered until this morning.

The driver, who was identified as John Oliver, Soo Hill, Escanaba, was unable to move and remained in the car all night.

About 10:15 Thursday morning Ed Lampre and Bernie Wanberg, employees of Spear & Sons, driving to Ishpeming, spotted the car in the ravine on a curve, a short distance west of the Brookton Corners intersection, and summoned state police.

Oliver, who suffered a possible broken hip, was taken to St. Mary's hospital in the city ambulance. His car, a 1939 sedan, was wrecked.

State Police said Oliver, driving west on U. S.-41, apparently lost control of his car on a left curve. The auto knocked over about ten guard rail posts and crashed down into the ravine, striking a concrete abutment of a small bridge.

Conservation Clubs:

Directors Of MUCC To Open Session Saturday

The board of directors of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs will open its two day meeting in the Escanaba city hall at 9 Saturday morning. Sessions of the meeting will continue during the day and Sunday morning with final adjournment expected at noon Sunday.

This meeting is the first that the board of Michigan's state-wide sportsmen's organization has held in the Upper Peninsula. Meeting at two-month intervals for the purpose of conducting affairs of the organization that embraces over 275 affiliated clubs with approximately 58,000 members, the board consists of seventy-nine officers and directors. It is expected that the board will be at nearly full strength for the Escanaba sessions.

Most important items on the agenda for the meeting this weekend will be plans for a new departure in organization procedure. It will set up an "Upper Peninsula Pre-MUCC Convention Annual Meeting". This UP meeting will probably be held in March. It will provide for discussion of conservation questions pertinent to the UP and decisions so that these questions will get full consideration at the regular annual MUCC convention in June at Petoskey.

First Play Is Clever Comedy

The comedy, "Lo and Behold", which is being presented by the Civic Drama Guild under the sponsorship of the Escanaba Lions Club at the Wm. W. Oliver Auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 15, will present Wendell Mayes in one of the most delightful comic roles of his career.

Mr. Mayes will play the role of a waspish author who, tired of his enforced diet of lemon juice and toast, deliberately commits suicide by eating a rich dinner, in order that he may return and enjoy his comfortable home as a ghost.

"Lo and Behold", produced in New York by the Theatre Guild, was written by John Patrick and bears his imprint of witty, affectionate sympathy for humanity.

The plot derives from the fact that tag-along ghosts try to foster a romance between two attractive young people living in the home they have attached themselves to, while the curmudgeon of a writer tries to frustrate this "heaven-made" romance.

The situation leads to many hilarious complications, due to the fact that the living characters, while influenced by the ghosts, cannot see or hear them. In addition to Wendell Mayes as the misanthropic author, Phyllis Manning and Philip Morbeau will be seen as the attractive young pair whose romance is the central interest of the play.

Charter Commission Meet Oct. 14 In Study Of Revision

Meeting last night to review chapters of the proposed revised charter for the City of Escanaba, the Charter Revision Commission at 11 p. m. adjourned to 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 14. All Commission meetings are held in City Hall.

The Commission will at its meeting next week discuss proposed chapters covering corrupt practices in connection with city elections, sections regarding city participation in local economic development programs, and a chapter on miscellaneous which could not be reviewed last night because of the lateness of the hour.

In review last night the Commission, following considerable study and discussion, made certain changes in some of the proposed chapters prepared by subcommittees of the Commission.

Study by the Commission and its committees of the proposed revised city charter was begun shortly after election of the Commission last April. Before the proposed charter is submitted to the people for adoption it must first be reviewed by the city attorney and approved by the governor.

The Commission members, all of whom serve without pay, are Carl Sawyer, chairman, Atty. Wheaton Strom, Miss Nina Ley, George Embs, Mrs. Kay Gundersen, Hilmer Johnson, Donald Moreau, Lowell Hebbard and Carl F. L. Johnson.

In the history of the United States, 12 federal officials have been tried in impeachment proceedings, of whom four were found guilty on one or more counts.

Kallios Open New Restaurant

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kallio of Escanaba Sunday will formally open their new Fareway Dinettes on US-2-41 just north of the Escanaba city limits.

The new building is 38 feet wide and 48 feet long and is modern in design and appointment. The restaurant section has all modern equipment and facilities include a counter, booths and tables for diners.

With 17 years experience in the restaurant business, Mr. and Mrs. Kallio have been residents of this community since 1938. In 1942 they took over operation of the Coney Island.

They operated a restaurant at Champion from 1929 to 1933 and then moved to Sault Ste. Marie where Mr. Kallio was engaged in the insurance business for several years. Recently they purchased the site for the Fareway Dinettes and constructed their new restaurant building there last summer.

The Fareway Dinettes also has facilities for drive-in service, which will be opened to the public next spring.

Shell Oil Host At Session Here

Executives and local employees of Shell Oil Company today were hosts at a luncheon and tour of the new Shell lake terminal at Escanaba. Local businessmen and civic leaders were guests at the luncheon at the House of Ludington.

Operations started at the new Shell lake terminal in May this year when the first of four storage tanks was completed. On May 14 the first cargo of 14,000 barrels of gasoline was received and service in the Upper Peninsula started shortly after. The terminal facilities are on property owned by Shepeck Dimension and Lumber Company holders of a long term lease with the oil company.

The terminal now has four storage tanks with a total capacity of 7,000,000 gallons. Two grades of gasoline and two grades of fuel oil will be available and it is expected that the present operation will have an annual throughput of approximately 20,000,000 gallons. The terminal site provides expansion possibilities sufficient to double the present facilities. Rail and truck facilities are available to serve an area as far distant as Hancock, Michigan. For the present the majority of shipments will be by rail.

Gasoline and fuel oil products will be received by lake tankers originating in Chicago. The ships capacities will range from 14,000 barrels to 35,000 barrels and it is expected that navigation will start in early April each year and be open until mid November. This operation is a part of the Minneapolis Division of Shell Oil Co. The division has a district office in Duluth, which will be directly responsible for the supervision of the Escanaba terminal. Local oil men employed in the operation are Jack W. Myers, terminal superintendent; P. H. Bucholtz, and F. A. Rudenberg. Local hosts and representatives were E. S. Lowrey, district manager at Duluth and E. J. Drury of Menominee, sales representative in the area. Others at the luncheon were R. T. Seidel, division manager; H. Y. Smith, operations manager; and J. T. Kirk, division treasury manager.

Two More Polio Cases Reported In Upper Michigan

MARQUETTE — Two more poliomyelitis cases were reported Thursday, increasing the Upper Peninsula case load for the disease for 1953 to 142.

New victims, both patients in St. Luke's Hospital here, are a 15-year-old Manistique girl and a 21-year-old Pelkie woman.

The Manistique girl is the fifth polio victim from Schoolcraft County this year and the Pelkie woman is the 16th Baraga County case. Baraga County has the biggest percentage (per population) of polio cases in the U. P. this year, even though Marquette County numbers 69.

There were no polio cases discovered from Sept. 24 to Oct. 6. Then in the next two days six new cases were reported and one fatality occurred.

Polio deaths this year number six, the latest being a six-year-old Nadeau girl. In 1952, the worst epidemic year for polio in the U. P.'s history, there were eight deaths out of 163 polio cases.

Elect Zerbel Chairman Of Boy Scout District

Clarence Zerbel of Escanaba was elected chairman of the Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America, at a dinner meeting of district committeemen at Delta Hotel last night.

Zerbel, who is also an executive board member of the Hiawathaland Council, of which the Red Buck district is a part, has been active for many years in many phases of Cub Scouting, Boy Scouting and Explorer Scouting. He has served as district leadership training chairman for the past year and is a recipient of the Silver Beaver Award, scouting's highest recognition for outstanding services to youth.

Zerbel replaces Dave Phalen of Nahma who has acted as district chairman for the past four years. Phalen was commended by the district committee for his faithful leadership during his term of office.

Pick Representatives
Phalen, Oscar Ohman of Gladstone, and S. E. Decker of Escanaba were elected to serve as representatives to the Hiawathaland Council executive board. The council area covers 14½ counties in the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin.

Glen Leonard of Escanaba was reappointed district Scout commissioner and will supervise the work of a neighborhood commissioner staff which services Cub Scout, Boy Scout and Explorer Scout units throughout the Red Buck district. The district consists of Delta, Schoolcraft and north Menominee counties.

Activities chairman Reuben Sjoquist of Gladstone discussed the plans for a council-wide Explorer Scout rifle meet which will be held at the Munising Conservation Club rifle range on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Organize Units
District Scout executive Andy Houston discussed the program of new unit organization. Four new Scout units have been organized since the first of the year and are being sponsored by the Carney-Nadeau American Legion, the Webster PTA of Escanaba and the Lutheran Brotherhood of Gladstone.

Other units currently being organized are to be sponsored by: Wells PTA, St. Joseph's Holy Name Society of Escanaba, Ford River Lions Club, American Playground Device Company of Nahma, Lakeside-Central PTA of Manistique and the Wells Lions Club.

Don Teisberg, council Scout executive of Marquette discussed the 1954 council budget. The next meeting of the Red Buck district committee will be held on Nov. 5 at Manistique.

'Music In Winds' Third In Lecture Series Tonight

"Music In the Winds" will be the lecture presented this evening as the third in the series of five on "Music Off the Beaten Path" instead of "Mahler's Song of the Earth" as previously announced. Sanford M. Helm will be the lecturer.

The lecture, which will be presented at the Junior High School at 8 p. m., will consist of a discussion of the status of wind instrument music in America today and demonstrations from the repertoire of music written specifically for various combinations of wind instruments.

Mr. Helm is an instructor in music literature at the University of Michigan, which is sponsoring this series through its extension service. He has a Ph. D. in music and he played, arranged and conducted broadcasts, concerts and shows in the U. S. Navy for two years. Sanford Helm also has played in numerous professional and semi-professional orchestras.

SPALDING — Hope of the Spalding Township Board of Education for use of the old township hall for band practice and other activities of the Powers-Spalding school band has received a set-back, the board learned at its regular meeting. The Board was informed that the hall had been condemned for such use by the state fire marshal because in its present condition it constitutes a fire hazard. Early repairs to the building to meet state standards are unlikely because of funds, the board reported.

IRON RIVER — The profession of nursing was recommended to interested young men this week by Lloyd Anderson, son of the Hans Andersons, US-2 west, who will be graduated next August from a leading school, Alexian Brothers Hospital school, Chicago. Plan Conference On Management Of Personnel

The Bureau of Industrial Relations and the Extension Service of the University of Michigan with the cooperation of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette will hold a conference on personnel management for industrial leaders on the campus of Northern Michigan College of Education on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 22 and 23. The conference is intended for personnel directors and others in the upper levels of industrial management.

Dr. John W. Riegel is director of the Bureau of Industrial Relations of the University of Michigan which has carried on programs of an educational nature for industry for over ten years. He will act as chairman and discussion leader at the conference. The speakers and their topics at the conference will be as follows:

"The Supervisors' Responsibilities in the Management-Employee Relationship; The Knowledge and Skills Required," by Robert Barron, assistant personnel, Inland director, Mead Corporation, Escanaba.

"Selection of Prospective Supervisors," by Howard M. Graff, assistant manager of mines, Inland Steel Company, Ishpeming.

"Maintaining Two-Way Communication Between Management and Employees," by L. J. McNamara, director of industrial relations, Rhineland Paper Company, Rhineland, Wis.

"Determination of Individual Supervisors' Training Needs," by Herman J. Gemunden, Oglebay-

Norton Company, Duluth, Minn.

"Supervisor Training Methods", by Clifford Murray, personnel superintendent, Kimberly-Clark Corporation, Niagara, Wis.

The conference will begin with a luncheon on Thursday, Oct. 22, and will conclude with a luncheon on Friday, Oct. 23. All meetings of the conference will be held at Lee Hall on the campus of Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette. Further information may be obtained by writing the University of Michigan Extension Service Office at Escanaba.

Mediation Sought In Iron Mountain Labor Troubles

IRON MOUNTAIN — George E. Bowles, chairman of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board and Jerry Despins, state mediator, were here conferring with union and management today as the UAW-CIO union strike against the Kingsford Chemical company entered its 100th day.

In a statement, Bowles said, "The purpose of our visit here is to arrange at an agreeable time and place a meeting between union and management. We already have separately contacted both parties."

Bowles indicated that if a meeting can be arranged, that in all probability it will be held at a neutral site, most likely Detroit or Lansing, and would be before the full mediation board.

The arrival of Bowles and Despins has been the first major development in the strike since Wednesday's scheduled meeting was cancelled.

Reduction Of Corporation Taxes Would Be Stimulant To Business

SEN. Millikin, Colorado Republican who heads the Senate Finance Committee, believes the five-point reduction in corporation taxes should go into effect on schedule next April 1, a viewpoint contradictory to the finance experts of the Eisenhower administration.

The present law provides that the corporation tax schedule shall drop from 52 to 47 percent on April 1, after the first $25,000 of earned income. Excess profits taxes will be eliminated and a 10% reduction in individual income taxes will go into effect Jan. 1. The administration has already announced that it will not oppose the two latter scheduled changes. The administration, however, has asked for continuance of the present corporation tax rates.

Sen. Millikin's contention is that a reduction of five points in the corporation tax limits will help business. It is not inconceivable that the stimulation to business that a tax reduction would bring would be sufficient in itself to recover for the government most if not all of the revenue loss anticipated by a reduction in rate.

Funds not required for tax payments could be used by business and industry for plant expansion and for creating new jobs, thereby bolstering the nation's economy.

Certainly it must be conceded that the present corporation tax rates, 52% on income exceeding $25,000, is an exorbitant rate that retards business expansion.

It cannot and should not be retained indefinitely. The Eisenhower administration says that it does not want to retain the high tax rates indefinitely but favors reduction as early as practicable. The administration, however, does not believe that this is the proper time for such reductions.

Sen. Millikin and many others disagree with the President and his advisors on this point. They believe that a reduction is warranted now because: 1. It was promised by the administration; and 2. It would stimulate business at a time when increased business activity is desired to offset production cutbacks resulting from the end of the Korean war.

Explaining Coverage Of Council Meeting

TO clarify the position of the newspaper and to bring understanding in connection with the Escanaba Daily Press' news coverage of a recent meeting of the Escanaba City Council, it is essential to point out to readers that:

1—Community newspapers have an obligation to inform the citizens what local government is doing, and even what it fails to do.

2—The whole story can be told, including salient points in discussion, without reporting statements that reflect upon the personal character or integrity of individuals.

3—The newspaper lending itself to the publication of defamatory allegations can be sued for libel because by publication it becomes party to disseminating allegedly libelous statements.

For these reasons you can expect the Escanaba Daily Press to keep its readers informed, to refuse to shade or color any story for any reason, and to exercise restraint for the protection of its own reputation and that of others who may be attacked.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Question: Today's paper has a front-page headline reading SULTAN'S OUSTER PERTURBING TO U. S. Shouldn't this read "disturbing"? N. H., New York.

Answer: "Perturb" means "to disturb greatly" and "to agitate." It is used only to describe mental disturbance, never physical. In the case of this headline, it seems scarcely likely that the nation's degree of agitation at the sultan's downfall was such that the stronger word "perturbation" was indicated. In any event, the writer of this headline has violated one of the basic rules of his trade—that, given a choice of two words employing the same number of characters, the more common one (in this case, "disturb") should be used in order to attract the largest possible group of readers. As a matter of fact, I showed this headline to a copy editor friend who, after snorting his disgust, said he would never use "perturb" in a headline and wouldn't even be likely to use "disturb." Something like SULTAN'S OUSTER SHOCKS U. S. would suit him fine.

Question: Last night I noticed in the credits following a TV show the phrase "teletype by so-and-so." Isn't "teletype" a new word?

J. C., Chicago

Answer: It is new to me and doesn't appear in the latest dictionaries on my reference shelf, though "teletic," "televic" and even "teletranscription" are already entered. However, it is an obvious coinage of tele from "television" and play. It duplicates the word "teletype" already in fairly general use and thus its chances for survival are dubious. A similar coinage of "photoplay" was never widely used in the film industry, though one of the leading fan magazines is called PHOTOPLAY.

The Doctor Says... Glands Have Tremendous Effect on Human Body

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

A tiny gland called the pituitary lies on the underside of the brain at the base of the skull. This gland secretes several important hormones which are necessary for the development and function of various organs and which act likewise on the body as a whole and on other glands of internal secretion.

One of these hormones which is secreted from a portion of the pituitary body or gland acts on another important internal gland called the adrenal. There are two adrenal glands which are also small and which lie close to the two kidneys.

This pituitary hormone activates or stimulates a portion of the adrenal glands and is called adrenocorticotrophic hormone or ACTH for short. Apparently without the stimulating action of the secretion from the pituitary gland, important hormones of the adrenal glands are not formed in sufficient amounts.

All this sounds a little complicated and, it is. However, the last few years have made this subject of practical importance in the treatment of many diseases. Several different diseases are being treated with success both with an adrenal secretion which is called cortisone or by the stimulating pituitary secretion, ACTH.

Both these hormones have remarkable effects, many of which are still not too well understood. Both substances are being used in some eye diseases, arthritis, and a number of other conditions, some of which have not up to this time responded well to other forms of treatment.

SCIENCE KNOWS GLANDS

Medical science has known something about these glands of internal secretion and of the hormones which they produce for many years. However, the discovery of the extraordinary effects of these two hormones on many actions of the human body and on some of the body's diseases has caused a great deal of excitement among medical men.

As a result the tiny pituitary gland, like the two small adrenal glands, is being subjected to some of the most intensive studies which have ever been given to any portion of the human anatomy.

It is exciting work and the investigators who are engaged in it are truly involved in new experiences as thrilling as those of any explorer.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Ex-President Herbert Hoover, who stepped out of the White House just 21 years ago, came back to the room where he once held cabinet sessions and was sworn in the other day as a member of the new Commission on Government Reorganization.

After Justice Harold Burton finished giving the oath, Hoover suggested that the first order of business was the election of a chairman and was promptly and unanimously elected to that post. He then said:

"I had expected that we would proceed to elect a vice-chairman at this time, but some difficulties have arisen, and if there is no objection I suggest that we let this go over until the next meeting."

There was no dissent. Hoover did not explain what the difficulties were over the vice-chairmanship, but they threaten to upset the otherwise peaceful calm of his Commission. Here is the inside story of what has happened.

Hoover had planned to propose Joseph P. Kennedy, ex-ambassador to England, as vice-chairman. The vice-chairmanship, he felt, should go to a Democrat and he considered Kennedy a good, safe, anti-Steven Democrat. But at the last minute, Sen. Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican, came to him and said that he wanted to be vice-chairman.

Ferguson faces a tough political race in Michigan, probably from Democratic Gov. "Soapy" Williams, and he indicated that the vice-chairmanship of the Hoover Commission would give him prestige in his re-election race.

REPUBLICAN RIVALRY

Hoover was not very happy about this because he wanted a Democrat to be vice-chairman. And he was even more unhappy when he learned that if a Republican was to be vice-chairman several Commission members felt he should be hard-working Congressman Clarence Brown of Ohio, the man who actually wrote the reorganization legislation.

Brown made it evident during the swearing-in ceremony that he has no great love for his GOP colleague from Michigan. "Look at him bootlicking those fellows as if he knew all about reorganization," the Ohio congressman remarked as Ferguson posed for photographers with Herbert Hoover and Justice Burton. "He wants that photo to help him in his campaign."

"Yet that fellow," continued Congressman Brown, "didn't even read the reorganization bill before he tossed it in the hopper."

Brown referred to the fact that he personally had written the government reorganization bill and given it to Ferguson to introduce in the senate. Tossing a bill into the hopper refers to placing it into the legislative basket or hopper in front of the presiding officer's desk in the house or the senate.

So Mr. Hoover is unhappily trying to unravel the question of who becomes his vice-chairman before his next meeting on November 16.

Note—Actually, there probably would have been no Reorganization Commission without Congressman Brown. Inside fact is that Eisenhower didn't want one, had appointed his brother, Arthur Flemming and Nelson Rockefeller as his own committee to reorganize the government. But Brown came to the White House and reminded Ike he would have to get his reorganization through congress; therefore he had better let congress participate. Ike yielded.

WATERFRONT SCANDAL SUPPRESSED
Last week in New Jersey a federal grand jury quietly indicted Dade Brothers, a packing and stevedoring firm which loaded Army supplies at the Army's Claremont terminal on the Jersey waterfront. This climaxed a Washington Merry-Go-Round column of Jan. 26, 1953, revealing graft and gangsterism right under the Army's nose.

It also climaxed an amazing situation in which Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, now Democratic leader of the senate, suppressed a report on this scandal prepared for him by his investigators.

The two investigators, Downey Rice and George Martin, then working for Johnson's committee on waste in the Armed services, had submitted a devastating report on crime and corruption at the Army's Claremont pier, and urged further action by Johnson in May, 1952—more than a year ago. But he bottled up the report, later even fired the two investigators.

Reason for Johnson's suppression has never been made clear. He himself explained it was because the waterfront was under New York-New Jersey jurisdiction.

At any rate, if the Texas senator had not suppressed the report, steps might have been taken that much earlier to clean up the New York-New Jersey waterfront, and the present waterfront snarl might have been avoided.

There are too many clubs for the good of the home, says a judge. More hearts are needed.

Disappearance Of Mrs. Maclean Stirs U.S. Distrust Of Britain

By TOM A. CULLEN

LONDON—(NEA)—The breakdown in British security methods is being discussed here in shocked tones following the disappearance of 37-year-old Mrs. Melinda MacLean, American-born wife of a missing British diplomat.

Mrs. MacLean, daughter of a Chicago business executive, is the latest in a series of Very Important Persons to "make monkeys out of Scotland Yard police," in the words of an American embassy official here.

The attractive brunette, whose husband has been the object of the biggest manhunt in modern times, vanished with her three children from Lausanne, Switzerland, on Sept. 11. Presumably, she has joined her husband behind the Iron Curtain.

American lack of confidence in British security methods has been one of the chief stumbling blocks to an exchange of atomic warfare information between the two nations, the American embassy official points out.

America broke off the wartime atom partnership with Britain seven years ago due to this lack of confidence.

As a result it has cost Britain millions of dollars and six years of work to discover truths about atomic energy which the U. S. already knew. America, in turn, has been denied British secrets.

The fact that British secret service men could not keep tabs on the wife of a man they are anxious to trace is not calculated to restore American confidence in the embassy official's opinion.

Mrs. MacLean was not even under British surveillance during her sojourn in Switzerland.

Other examples are cited as evidence of "Colonel Blimpism" at Scotland Yard.

Example No. 1 was the sudden discovery in 1950 that Dr. Klaus Fuchs was a Russian spy.

It was the American F.B.I. and not Scotland Yard that uncovered Dr. Fuchs, this after statements by Russian diplomats at United Nations meetings had revealed that they knew certain American atom secrets.

Example No. 2 was the flight to Russia eight months later of Bruno Pontecorvo and his family.

Pontecorvo was under no suspicion in Britain. Scotland Yard was caught flatfooted when Pontecorvo vanished under cloak-and-dagger circumstances.

Example No. 3 was the disappearance in May, 1951, of Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean, to be followed by the latest "vanishing act"—that of Mrs. Melinda Maclean.

The facts in the Burgess-Maclean case "point the sharp finger of incompetence at Foreign Office security," in the words of London Daily Express.

When Burgess and Maclean vanished on an express train bound for Paris they left behind them bizarre careers in the Foreign Office.

Both were Communist sympathizers at Cambridge University, where they knew each other as undergraduates. At the height of their careers both had confessed to friends that they were Communist agents. Both had strongly neurotic personalities, and had at one time or another been under the care of psychiatrists.

While in diplomatic posts abroad, both had behaved so recklessly that they had to be recalled, Maclean from Cairo, Burgess from Washington, D. C. Both were heavy drinkers and violently abusive under the influence of alcohol.

NOBODY WAS LOOKING: Mrs. Melinda Maclean, who vanished from Switzerland with her three children, is shown with two of them in England in 1951. Her disappearance is being cited as the latest example of laxity in British security methods.

That the two missing diplomats are now giving advice to the Kremlin on how to sow discord between Britain and America is widely conjectured.

The disappearance of Mrs. Maclean, reviving grave doubts in America about British security, could not have been better timed to achieve this objective.

Memories Of Gold Rush Days Stir Yukon Trail

WASHINGTON—"Gold! Gold! Gold! Sixty-eight Klondikers bring back a ton of gold!"

Newsboys hawked this headline following history's biggest gold strike, the bonanza of July, 1897, in the Canadian Yukon. Thousands of prospectors—amateur as well as professional—rushed north to the Klondike. Boom towns sprang up almost overnight.

Amos Burg recently traced the goldseekers' footsteps along the historic Yukon Trail. In an illustrated article in the September issue of the National Geographic Magazine, he contrasts the quiet, peaceful aura that pervades the region today with the feverish days of 1898.

Ghost Towns

In Skagway, port of entry at the top of Alaska's Panhandle where 15,000 stampedeers pitched tents in knee-deep mud, Mr. Burg found a respectable little town of 750. Deserted gingerbread-trimmed buildings are all that remain of its fabulous past.

Enroute to Whitehorse, Mr. Burg rode the narrow-gauge White Pass and Yukon, fondly called the "biggest little railroad in the world" during World War II when it did a heroic job of hauling men and supplies to the Alaska Highway.

He passed through Bennett, a roaring town of 10,000 at its peak, now little more than a lonely ghost town. Here at the junction point of the White Pass and Chilkoot Trails, stampedeers built their boats to go downstream to Dawson.

Whitehorse is now a modern metropolis of 4,000, largest community in the Yukon today. Mr. Burg reports. The Alaska Highway helped it grow and become an important military base.

Dawson, Klondike Capital

A sturdy sternwheeler took Mr. Burg the remaining 434 miles down the Yukon River to Dawson in the heart of the Klondike. Forty years ago, 250 steamers plied the river, but only two remain in service.

At Dawson Mr. Burg breakfasted at the Royal Alexandra Hotel and recalled the days when miners eating there a half-century ago had paid $3 each for eggs. The hotel once housed the Flora Dora Dance Hall where prospectors paid $1 a minute to dance with the girls.

Gone is the Dominion Gambling House, where pots commonly ran to $5,000 and whole fortunes were lost in an evening. Boarded-up, sagging buildings line the warped wooden sidewalk of Front Street.

Today Dawson's population has dwindled from 8,000 to less than 300. Mr. Burg saw a few prospectors still mining by hand, but for 50 years nearly all mining has been done by giant electric dredges. Where miners once turned up their noses at any dirt paying less than 10 cents a pan (two shovelfuls), Klondike dirt now yields only 25 cents of gold per ton.

But the Yukon's waters may someday be even more valuable than its minerals. Mr. Burg reports. A new power project, which will require $2 billion and 20 years to complete, will be started next spring. Ore will be brought into the Yukon from all over the world to make pig iron, steel and aluminum.

Good Evening...

THE SICK FRIEND—Books of etiquette seldom touch on the subject and there are few rules or regulations to follow. But when you go to the hospital to visit a sick friend, try putting yourself in his place.

Would you, for example, want a so-called friend to drop in wearing a long face and filled with tales of about everything from the state of the nation to the condition of his finances?

Of course not, so you should govern your demeanor in the sick room accordingly.

Do not, on the other hand, adopt the maxim that if you laugh the world laughs with you. The patient, unless he is far along the road to recovery, will not enjoy those rib-splitting, stitch-stretching jokes.

THE UNDERTAKER—We recall the story of the lady who went to the hospital to visit a sick friend and left her friend in worse condition.

She inquired about the operation in all its painful details and observed that "what you've got sounds just like what my cousin died of—cancer!"

The visitor also recounted numerous other cases of fatal illness and took her unwilling listener through the symptoms, the disease, and the death with considerable enjoyment.

"Most of them didn't suffer much," she added consolingly. "They went quick."

By this time the patient was wishing her caller would also "went quick" out of there. When she didn't the post-operative case summoned a nurse. "I'm tired and I want to rest," she said pointedly.

The nurse ushered the visitor out and the patient closed her eyes and waited for death, which did not come. All she had was a bad night and relapse.

ODIOUS COMPARISON—Another hospital visitor who should be encouraged to submit to euthanasia is the individual who has been through everything.

If the patient is suffering from some rare malady, the visitor tops it with his account of something even more esoteric and a double exposure at that.

Should the patient have a twinge or two while the visitor is there the visitor invariably says: "Pain! You got pain? You don't know what pain is." He then proceeds to tell about his own special brand of pain, which is scarcely conducive to helping the patient endure his own discomfort.

There is nothing the patient has had which he visitor has not had worse. No patient likes to be poo-pooed while in a sick bed. After all, it is quite an unusual occasion for him.

SILENT SUFFERING—Do not take a long face into the sick room with you. If you have troubles with you, drop them outside the door.

One of the most difficult persons to endure, so far as the patient is concerned, is the silent sufferer, the dolorous droop.

"Now, I know you're not well, so let's just sit quietly," says the sad sack. "I'll be right here by your side," he adds consolingly, "if anything should happen!"

Nothing happens except a wretched silence. The visitor withdraws into a determinedly mournful attitude risking a brave smile if the victim—I mean patient—should open an eye for a further glance.

This morgue-like atmosphere is maintained for as much as two or even three hours. The patient's only escape is to feign sleep or death. Eventually the grieving creep will slither out of the room, leaving one last sad smile and a hopeless shake of the head to cheer the sick one.

BOUNCING WITH HEALTH—Another visitor who is most unwelcome in the sick room is the hearty, healthy extrovert. He is full of cheer like a high school student body at a football game and just about as restful.

He does everything but slap the patient on the back and the more extremes of the type have been known to do even that. He is inclined to be active in the sick room, bouncing from chair to bed and back again, shouting meanwhile of the good health to be found in fresh air and exercise.

"Sleep with your window open," he yells, throwing up the sash and permitting a blast of cold air to flutter the bed sheets beneath which the patient covers.

After exhausting the patient with shouts, advice, and performing a couple free tumbling acts he throws himself out of the room. Two seconds later he pops back to yell:

"Don't let them keep you in that bed too long! It will weaken you!"

Congress Has Many Inquiries

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON — (CQ) — With Republicans in charge of its investigative committees for the first time since 1948, Congress has jabbed with new-broom vigor at nooks and corners which the GOP said the government's previous administration left in a mess.

The number of investigations is growing by the week, and probably will reach 100 by the end of 1953, according to a Congressional Quarterly survey of investigative activities by the 83rd Congress' first session. The best-known of these are aimed at alleged misdeeds and mistakes of the government's Executive branch when it was under the Democrats.

When the first session adjourned early Aug. 4, Congressmen had completed or begun about 85 investigations. By mid-September the figure had topped 90.

Probe Cost Nearly $4 Million

Approximately a score more investigations have been specifically authorized by either the House or Senate but have not yet reached the "action" stage. In addition to these full-fledged investigations, conducted by Congressmen themselves in nearly all cases, 40 or more other inquiries will be credited to committee staffs during 1953.

To pay for the inquiries, Congress made available to its committees $3,958,471, including carry-over funds.

While the figures for the 83rd Congress on number of probes and their cost are not closely comparable to those for the 82nd Congress, they indicate the new session's investigative activity is on a scale similar to that of the 82nd Congress, which broke all records for number of probes and money spent.

In 1951 and 1952, the 82nd Congress authorized $5,700,870 for investigations. No first session figures for that Congress are available but the 83rd Congress is well on the way to topping the two-year spending of its predecessor if it keeps on at anything like the present rate.

236 Probes In 1951-52

The 82nd Congress was credited with 236 probes during its two years. Its first session produced most of these, approximately 150. However, these totals included some staff inquiries not as clearly Congressional investigations as the list of about 90 compiled by CQ for the period Jan. 3-Sept. 15, 1953. During 1953 Republicans took over control from Democrats and Congressional committees spent more time in reorganization than was necessary at the start of the 82nd Congress in 1951. The 1951 session, moreover, ran more than 10 weeks longer than did this year's. It was adjourned on Oct. 20.

Probes in 1953 stirring the most attention generally have torn into policies and practices of the Democratic administration, although some focused on private institutions, such as entertainment and schools. Main object of the detecting has been evidence of subversion.

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's (R-Wis.) Investigations Subcommittee of the Senate Government Operations Committee pried into handling of State Department personnel files, "mismanagement and subversion" in the Voice of America, subversive books in U. The Senate Judiciary Committee's Internal Security Subcommittee, headed by William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), investigated faulty screening of U. S. employees working for the United Nations, Communist penetration of Ameri-

This fine old mansion was built in 1804, by General William Henry Harrison, later to become ninth President of the United States, but at this time, the governor of the Indiana Territory, which appointment he had received from President Thomas Jefferson in 1800. The house was probably the first, west of of the Alleghenies, to be built of burned brick, and was a solid structure, with basement walls 24 inches in thickness. The wood-work of the interior, the sash, doors, mantels and stairs were of black-walnut, said to have been made in Pittsburgh. These were troublesome times, with constant fear of attack from hostile Indians and, in view of this contingency, on one side of the large cellar, there was an entrance to a tunnel, leading to the Wabash River, 600 feet distant. By this tunnel, the Governor and his family, if hard pressed, could escape to a canoe on the river bank, or could obtain food and water. In recent years, the mansion faced destruction, but has been saved and restored by the Francis Vigo Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution and is open to the public.

Broken Landing Gear Snagged With Lasso; Plane Lands Safely

MEADVILLE, Pa. (P)—Nicholas Morohovich, 38, of nearby Conneaut Lake, and Francis Confer, 31, of Adamsville, took off in their four-seater airplane Wednesday for a routine flight.

Then Morohovich heard a loud snap and discovered his landing gear had broken and was dangling under the fuselage.

Making a lasso out of two safety belts, he leaned far out of the plane, snagged the gear and tied it to a strut while Confer piloted the plane with one hand and held the other man's legs with the other.

Morohovich then took the controls and landed the ship.

can schools, and Soviet infiltration of high level federal policy making.

In the House, the Un-American Activities Committee, headed by Rep. Harold H. Velde (R-Ill.) probed alleged Communist activity in education, entertainment and religion.

Headline probes in other fields included the ammunition shortage in Korea and waterfront racketeering in New York and New Jersey. Leading those investigations were Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), head of a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee, and the late Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-N. H.), Chairman of a Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Subcommittee.

Italy Will Get 2 Trieste Zones

WASHINGTON (P)—The United States and Britain jointly announced they will turn over their occupation zone in the Trieste area to the Italian government for administration "at the earliest practicable date."

This decision was disclosed as a step to halt the "recent deterioration in the relations between Italy and Yugoslavia." Both countries claim the entire free territory of Trieste.

The World War II Italian peace treaty provided the Trieste territory should be an internationalized free territory, but this has never been implemented because the Russians and the Western Powers failed to agree on an international governor.

American and British troops have occupied Zone A, including the City and Port of Trieste, for nearly eight years. At present some 4,000 American and 3,000 British troops garrison the area. Yugoslavia occupies the remainder of the area, known as Zone B.

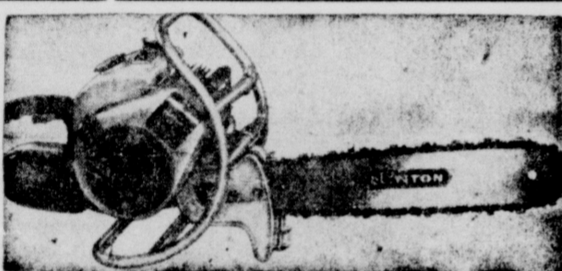

The British and American troops will be withdrawn, the announcement of the decision said.

"It is the firm belief of the two governments that this step will contribute to stabilization of a situation which has disturbed the Italo-Yugoslav relations during recent years," the State Department said.

A State Department spokesman said the American-British decision has been communicated to both the Italian and Yugoslav governments. He declined to report what reaction came from Marshal Tito's government which can be expected to oppose the transfer to Italy.

The name "Formosa" comes from the Portuguese, "Ilha Formosa" which means "beautiful island."

Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-R.I.) described Mitchell as "a very good man." Neither he nor Sen. Hugh Butler (R-Neb.) foresaw any difficulty in Mitchell's winning Senate confirmation next January.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said he regretted that Eisenhower had been "unable to find some man from the ranks of labor." Mitchell, like Durkin a Roman Catholic, was industrial personnel director for the War Department during World War II. Thereafter he was labor relations director in New York City—first Macy's department store and then with Bloomingdale's. Find Stolen Car Near Spalding Found today seven miles north of Spalding was a blue-grey 1953 Studebaker stolen Thursday from St. Ignace, in which a man obtained $410 worth of gas Wednesday night from Eli's Gas Station in Powers and left without paying.

The Delta County Sheriff's Department and Michigan State Police each sent a car and armed men to aid the Menominee County Sheriff's Department in beating the brush for the man, Michigan State Police said. The man is believed to be armed and on foot in the area.

The car was found on the River Road near the Hupy camp. In it were guns stolen from the Gamble Store in Powers in a recent breaking and entering.

A 30-30 rifle which was among the stolen guns was not in the car, however, leading to the belief the man has this gun with him, state police said.

The man who stole the gas from Eli's Wednesday was described by David Naser of Eli's as about 24, 6 feet tall, about 160 pounds, and wearing gray slacks, a gray plaid jacket-type shirt, and a fishing hat with a white brim. It is not known who the man might be, State Police said.

Mystery Hoodlum May Hold Key In Kidnaping

naping and later found him shot to death in the basement of the Heady home.

He claims he hasn't seen Marsh since. Some officers say they believe Hall was the killer, others doubt that Hall and Mrs. Heady had an accomplice. There has been some speculation that Marsh may be dead.

Where Is $300,000

The capture of Marsh could answer these questions:
Who actually killed Bobby Green-lease?
Why he was killed, even before ransom negotiations?
Is Hall's story about Marsh merely an invention?

What happened to the $300,000 ransom money still missing?
Approximately $292,000 was recovered from Hall's room in St. Louis. Hall has said he may have lost another bag of money while drunk.
Doubt was cast on Mrs. Heady's story that she didn't know she was participating in a kidnaping when she lured Bobby from his school on the pretext she was his aunt.

The FBI said her fingerprints had been found on ransom notes used during the kidnaping negotiations.

Tips Prove False

Hall and Mrs. Heady now are held on $100,000 bonds on federal charges of extortion. However, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr. said in Washington they would be turned over to the State of Missouri for prosecution.
Jackson County Prosecutor Richard K. Phelps said they probably will be brought to trial here. He said that at this point kidnaping charges against them in Kansas City are stronger than would be the murder charges against them in St. Joseph, Mo.

Death is the maximum penalty for either crime in Missouri.
Police in various parts of the nation have had numerous reports from persons who believed they saw the missing Marsh but none of the tips panned out.

Marsh, who has a lengthy criminal record, was described as 5 feet 6, stocky build, with brown hair and a ruddy complexion. His left ring finger has been amputated at the first joint.
He has various tattoos, including a small heart at the base of his left thumb, a skull and cross bones on his left shoulder and a dagger and snake on his left arm.

Crewmen Explain How German Ship Was Sunk By U.S. Ore Carrier

PORT HURON (AP)—The German skipper and two American witnesses agree that the motorship Wallshiff was rammed and sunk by the U. S. ore carrier Pioneer while the Wallshiff was in the correct north-bound channel of the St. Clair river Oct. 2.

But the American witnesses, Clifford J. McInnis and John C. Diller, told a U. S. Coast Guard hearing here yesterday that the Wallshiff had been only 100 feet from the U. S. shore in the south-bound channel and had changed course after the Pioneer sounded danger signals.

Both Ships Turn

McInnis and Diller said they heard no answering signal from the Wallshiff, but the skipper of the German ship, Capt. Thomas Nissen, testified he answered. Nissen and the two Americans agreed that the collision happened 400 feet off Canada in the 1,400-foot river that forms the international boundary here.

McInnis and Diller said both ships turned east and collided in the swift running river that is a link between Lakes Huron and Erie. Other Wallshiff crewmen are scheduled to follow Nissen to the stand today.

Capt. Harold Patterson, a Canadian pilot aboard the Wallshiff, died in the collision, apparently of a heart attack brought on by excitement and exertion.

Signals Changed

Capt. Nissen testified: "She (the Pioneer) gave me one blast whistle signal for passing each other, portside-to-portside. The pilot (Capt. Patterson) told me to give her one back. I answered with one signal and then the Pioneer gave danger signals (a series of short blasts)."

"Then she gave two more blasts signal for passing starboard-to-starboard while I ordered my wheelsman 'hard right' and ordered my engineer 'full astern.' I then signaled three blasts, which is the international signal for movement astern. Then we were hit."

The first meeting of the fall season of the Danforth Home Economics club was held at the home of Mrs. Wallace Irving. A lesson on making rolls and coffee cake was given by Mrs. Olson and Mrs. John Holland of an Escanaba club and a flower arrangement lesson was given by Mrs. Arthur Monson and Mrs. Arthur Anderson assisted by Miss Lillie Lindstrom, Mrs. Norman Anderson and Mr. Knut Swanson. Others attending were Mrs. Felix Johnson, Mrs. Paul Horst, Mrs. Harry Blyth and Mrs. George Larson. Lunch was served after the demonstrations.

Home Ec Meeting

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul Horst and children David, Devon, Lowell and Janalee and Mrs. George Larson and son George motored to Germfask Sunday evening and attended the Menominee services at the church there. Rev. Horst remained at Germfask for the week to hold revival services there.

Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined a shade today to despair a few strong spots.

The recession was slight for the most part, but there were some losers of between one and two points. Gains extended to around a point at the best.
Business was quiet at a pace around Thursday's low 960,000 shares. Many attributed this lack of interest to the fact that all security and commodity markets throughout the United States and Canada will be closed Monday for Columbus Day and the Canadian Thanksgiving Day. Trading usually is slow before such a recess.

Aircrafts were higher after an early buying flurry. Merchandising shares were up with Macy's well ahead. Macy's reported sharply increased earnings in the past fiscal year.

Declining stocks included Southern Railway, Standard Oil (N.J.), American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Du Pont, Westinghouse Electric, Chrysler, and Admiral Corp.

Higher were Consolidated Edison, Allied Chemical, Packard, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Boeing, and United Aircraft. Corporate bonds were steady. U. S. government securities in the over the counter market were mostly unchanged.

Nation Preparing To Meet Future Atomic Threats

reaction... popularly known as the H-bomb."

The President added that U. S. experts always estimated it was within the scientific and technical capabilities of the Soviets, aided by "the material assistance of what they learned of our program through espionage."

The President was asked about Secretary Wilson's statement that it might be three years before the Russians had enough bombs and planes to carry on any sustained atomic attack on this country.

Not Fooling People

Eisenhower said no one was trying to fool the American people, and that he had no intention of saying that the threat of war was on America's doorstep at this moment.

But to meet the situation posed by the Russian explosion, Eisenhower said, he and his advisers are studying priorities for defense expenditures.

What the Soviet hydrogen development will mean in the way of defense expenditures, the President said he wasn't prepared to say yet.

Neither was he ready to predict any early budget balancing, although he said it remains a goal his administration wants to reach as soon as possible.

He couldn't even say at this time, Eisenhower observed, that the budget would be balanced by July 1, 1955. Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey predicted some time ago that revenues will reach a daily balance with expenditures by next July.

The President's statement on the atomic situation was applauded by Hickenlooper, top Republican senator on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee.

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (R-Mass.) said "We must keep our perspective and not get too excited until we get all the facts." He voiced doubt that Congress would blindly rush through heavy defense spending measures.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) commented that the President said nothing

Shooting Star Show Tonight

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Throughout the world tonight, professional and amateur astronomers and just plain laymen may be treated to the spectacle of a spacious meteor shower.

Dr. Lincoln La Paz, director of the Western world's only Institute of Meteoritics, at the University of New Mexico, said:

"There are good reasons to believe we will see a respectable shower Friday night. But, unlike an eclipse, we cannot predict it for sure."

In 1946, eight days after Giacobini's comet passed through a certain point, the earth arrived at that same point—the node—and earth's inhabitants were treated to the spectacular shower.

"A single observer," La Paz said, "saw more than 200 shooting stars in a minute."

The Southwest United States—between Albuquerque and the West Coast saw the show, but the rest of the nation, lying under a heavy cloud cover and a full moon, saw nothing.

This year earth will reach the node 180 days after the comet passes. Conditions are "quite favorable" for the shower, La Paz said. There will be no new moon to detract from the brilliance of the sight.

Earth passes through the trail of the comet once every six and six-tenths years.

Reactionary Old Guard Criticized By Truman In St. Louis Address

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The "old guard of reactionaries" have gained new strength and "want to return to the days of McKinley," former President Harry S. Truman said Thursday night.

But he said he worried even more about those in the Eisenhower administration who "accept the reforms we have made, and then refuse to go forward to meet the new problems we face."

He spoke at a dinner at which he received the $1,000 annual Sidney Hillman Foundation public service award, which was established in memory of the late president of the CIO Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America.

Hairless Bull Wears Clothes

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (AP)—Come winter, Pinky will be a bull in sheep's clothing. Pinky was born without hair, something that happens to one bull out of every 100,000. Experts say he will be hairless for good.

Said its owner, Harry Hayes: "We are planning to have a sheepskin coat made for him for the winter. He certainly can't go out in the cold like that."

Artificial Kidney Built For $75

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
CHICAGO (AP)—A young doctor told of making an artificial kidney for $75 out of a kitchen pressure cooker and sausage casing.

It helped save a young woman in convulsions and coma due to an error in blood transfusion. Dr. William Y. Inouye of the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine told the American College of Surgeons.

Several hours after the kidney was put to work to purify her blood, she woke up and said, "Doctor, I'm hungry."

Dr. Inouye and Joseph Engelberg, an engineer, developed the kidney, starting with a gallon-size pressure cooker costing $19.

Inside it, they put a stainless steel core ($3) and 27 feet of sausage casing or plastic tubing (75 cents) wrapped around this core. There's also a plastic screen or filter ($1). But it costs about $50 to have inlet and outlet fittings machined into the cooker.

Blood from a tube put into the patient's artery enters the cooker and circulates through the tubing, then back into the body. Waste products in the blood ooze through the tubing into a fluid inside the pressure cooker. The cooker supplies an air-tight system so there's less pressure in the fluid than in the blood in the tubing.

No pump is needed. The artery pressure of the blood is enough to circulate blood through the tubing.

Artificial kidneys can benefit people acutely sick because of temporary kidney failure due to accidents, shock, or blood transfusion reactions. They cannot do much for persons with chronic kidney disease.

Thousands Ask 'Weeping Madonna' To Cure Their Ailments

It's only a simple terra-cotta statuette located on the Via Delgi Orta in Siracusa, Italy, but it's become the objective of pilgrimages made daily by thousands of devout worshippers seeking comfort or cures for their ills. The statuette, known as the "Weeping Madonna," is owned by Rosaria Pina, who

So numerous are the crowds, many bearing gifts, that police are assigned to help keep order.

Intense emotion is felt as this girl, deaf and mute since birth, tries to shout words of adoration at the statuette.

claims that tears fall from the Madonna's face as pilgrims pray. Although church authorities at the Vatican remain silent on the matter, claims have been made by pilgrims, ascribing miraculous "cures" as well as the granting of wishes to adorations performed, and prayers offered before the image.

Crowds surge toward the Madonna shouting adoration, while a priest holds a paralyzed child, whose recovery is reported.

A mother kisses her child as she holds a picture of the Madonna, hoping that the youngster will be cured.

Miracle Drugs May Help Farmer Get Back To Prosperity

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Miracle drugs are having their greatest sales growth these days down on the farm. Juicier meat, bigger chops and younger, plumper broilers are heading for the table. The farmer is cutting down on the amount of feed and speeding up his marketing schedule. He hopes that may help to halt the decline in his cash income.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reports today that Midwest farmers suffered a 3 per cent slump in cash receipts in the first half of the year and it predicts the dip will continue for a few months at least.

New Field Opened

But another Chicago bank, the Northern Trust Co., notes a new aid to farmers: "The realization of the effects of vitamin B12 and antibiotics on the health and growth rate of animals has opened up a new and promising area. Feed supplements enable animals to reach market weights faster on less feed."

Meat packers hope the trend means more meat and greater per capita consumption.

Drug companies have seen their feed supplement business spurt from a pittance in 1949 to 4 million dollars in 1950 35 millions in 1952. New drug discoveries have helped drug companies double their total sales since 1945 and push them six times higher than prewar.

The drug industry is more effusive than the bankers in sketching future possibilities for farmers, and for the eating public.

Runs Eliminated

It says, for example, that one pound of B12 can fortify 150 million pounds of a cheap soybean base feed. Fed to broilers, the mash can bring them to market two weeks ahead of schedule. The same vitamin can force pigs to grow 10 per cent faster and become 10 per cent heavier to boot.

Makers of terramycin say this antibiotic added to hog feed cuts down both on the mortality rate and on the number of runts in litters, speeds up growing time, and shaves the total amount of feed needed by as much as 10 per cent.

Packers reason that if the same amount of feed could fatten more animals, farmers could raise more. And if meat hits the markets quicker and animals are fatter and less costly to raise, packers see a chance that the nation's per capita meat consumption could rise still further.

Truck On Stamp Design Changed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any resemblance between the big truck pictured on the forthcoming stamp honoring the trucking industry and a n y manufacturer's individual make will be strictly coincidental.

Post Office officials said Postmaster General Summerfield has ordered the original stamp design done over because he got complaints, after pictures of the proposed stamp were published recently, that the machine looked too much like one make.

Most of those who closely examined the pictures thought the truck was a Reo, produced at Lansing, Mich. Others saw resemblances to other makes.

Summerfield, an old Chevrolet dealer himself, promptly went into action, examined the design with great care and ordered the truck redrawn. It will, the department said, be a composite of many makes.

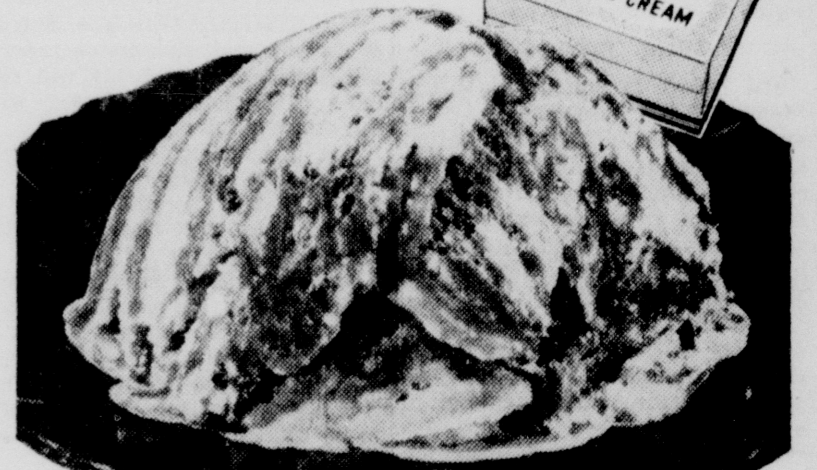

None of the proposed stamps had been printed when the change was ordered.

The stamp will have its first-day sale at Los Angeles Oct. 27, in connection with the annual convention of the American Trucking Association.

French Can Make Mistakes In Dress Too, Says Designer

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
It's not just American women who make mistakes in dress, says Jacques Fath, Parisian designer who has invaded the American market for the last few years. Even French women can be wrong.

Interviewed in the midst of his U. S. wholesale collection of resort and spring fashions, which will be unveiled to American buyers next week, Mr. Fath considered the universal tragedy of bad judgment and sighed:

"The biggest mistake made by all women everywhere—in America, in France, in Italy, in Siam—is to think they can look elegant by sewing sequins all over everything. They sew them on their sweaters, on hats, on gloves, on shoes—they even paste them on their eyelids.

Keep It Simple
"If you merely want glitter, why not wear a lighted electric bulb in each ear?"

Mr. Fath, under gentle persuasion, issued the following 10 commandments for being well dressed in any language:

1—Keep it simple. Simplicity is the one fundamental rule for good taste.

2—Give proper care to the hair-do. It must be suitable to the individual and neat.

3—Wear the simplest possible shoes—plain pumps in well-polished calf or kid or well-brushed suede. No sequins, please. No open toes or open heels. No ankle straps.

4—Don't load yourself with accessories. Learn to eliminate unnecessary decoration.

5—Don't overdress. It's far better to be underdressed for any occasion than to be overdressed.

Smart Hat Important

6—Save your glamor clothes for after 5 p.m. You needn't carry the simplicity theme to the point of wearing an old sweater and tweed skirt for cocktails.

7—Keep your hat smart, but simple. It should not detract attention from your face, your hair-do and your gown.

8—For ordinary evening wear short dresses are most becoming and practical—except for formal dinners and dances.

9—Gloves should be plain, immaculate and expensive.

10—Jewelry also should be simple—unless you happen to own a peck of real diamonds. Then the sky's the limit. But if your resources are limited, choose one piece of real jewelry rather than several pounds of rhinestones.

Rock Legion Post Sponsoring Benefit Film Entertainment

ROCK—The Rock American Legion Post 559 is sponsoring a full length feature movie Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 13 and 14 at 7:30 p. m. at the Rockette theatre in Rock. All proceeds will go in the Legion welfare fund.

The movie, "Eight Iron Men" was a hit on Broadway, and is now a great motion picture of an eight man army of World War II. It gives a story of all G. I.'s, the humor and heroics, the horseplay and unheralded gallantry.

Right in style with the season will be a short companion feature, "Hunter's Holiday". Cartoons will furnish extra attraction.

Tickets may be bought from any Legionnaire. A saving may be made by buying advanced tickets.

A regular meeting of the Rock Legion will be held at the clubhouse at 8 p. m. Monday, Oct. 12.

School Clubs Formed

The students of the Rock High School have several clubs organized for extra activities. There is the Shop Club under the direction of Pete Tinsley, the Dancing Club with Lois Murker in charge, the Rock 4-H club under the direction of Joyce Norden and the Art Club, which is a new club this year, with Lois Hilleren teaching art. A bowling league has been organized with five teams from Rock and one from Perkins, and Lois Hilleren being the advisor. Among extra curricular activities is the High School Chorus under the direction of John Small.

Use Tax Law

Secretary of State, Owen J. Cleary, has notified Robert Weingartner, manager of the local secretary of state's license bureau in Rock, that the use tax will be collected by Mr. Weingartner at time transfer of title is applied for. This use tax is a new law which became effective Oct. 2, and applies to people buying used cars.

Try Sweaters That Take Tubbing

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The big, bulky sweaters that until now have been reserved for the ski slopes are swooping into the fall fashion scene. They achieve the important three-dimensional look with the liberal use of the cable and nub knits, the beehive, hand-pegged and Shaker stitches.

You'll be wise to select your 3-D sweater carefully. Invest in a good wool that will take easily to soap and water and you will have a well-shaped sweater for innumerable wearings.

When washing the sweater you want plenty of room to squeeze the suds through thoroughly. So, if the sweater is very bulky and the basin small, use the bath tub.

Before submerging the sweater, rub badly soiled spots with a sudsy soft brush or soapy fingers. To guard against stretching and sagging, keep the wool cupped in your hands while washing and rinsing. Use lukewarm suds and rinse at the same temperature.

After you have rinsed away all signs of soap, blot the sweater with a towel and then insert it in a drying frame, laying flat to dry.

If the wool is treated to resist shrinkage it will not be necessary to use a frame. In any case, do not dry near a radiator. If you are in a hurry, put the sweater near a fan.

You might try this beauty treatment to keep your bulky sweater fashion-right: After the sweater has dried, press down on it with a dry sponge or wash cloth, patting it up and down to stimulate the pattern and emphasize its texture.

Story Hour Will Be Held Saturday

Story Hour will be held at the Carnegie Public Library, in the Children's Room, Saturday at 10 a. m. "No More Scooting for Scoot", a tale of a runaway cat, and "Horned Owl's Airline", the story of an animal airplane, will be given. Mrs. Kenneth G. Jensen, children's librarian, will be in charge.

Aowakiya Group Elects Officers

Mary Kay Ettenhofer was elected president of the Aowakiya group of Camp Fire Girls at a meeting held Wednesday, Oct. 7, at the home of their leader, Miss Mary Manning, 810 1st Ave. S.

Other officers elected are: vice-president, Mary Krantz; secretary, Georgiana Coplan; treasurer, Pat Gasman, and scribe, Julie Roy.

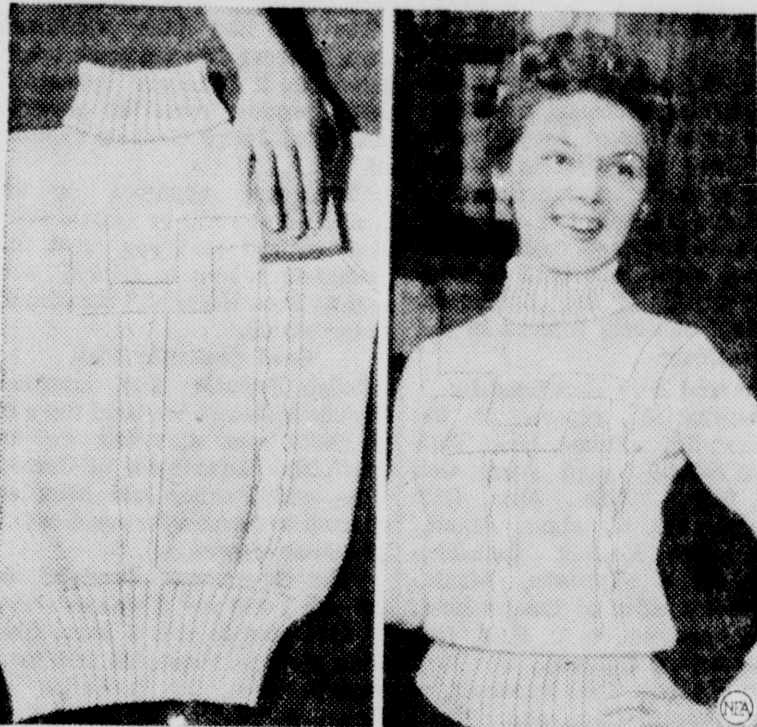

Perkins

Bethany Ladies Aid
PERKINS—Mrs. Chet Harris was hostess at the meeting of the Ladies Aid of Bethany Lutheran church Wednesday afternoon. There were 34 members in attendance. Plans for a harvest dinner sponsored by the Aid and set for Nov. 8 were discussed. Singing of hymns and piano solos by Shirley Besson and Sandra Segerstrom were enjoyed. Lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held on the afternoon of Wednesday, Oct. 21. Mrs. Andy Bannister will be hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcell Jodocv of St. Nicholas spent the weekend in Green Bay visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Arbour, formerly of St. Nicholas. While there they were sponsors at the baptism of Pauline Rose, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arbour.

Mr. and Mrs. Pamphil Depuydt of St. Nicholas and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Depuydt of Gladstone left Wednesday for a week's visit with relatives in Flint and Holland.

Miss Monica Jodocv, R. N., of Detroit is visiting this week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jodocv. Miss Marie Jodocv, student at the Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette, also spent the weekend at her parental home.

If you buy one of the bulky sweaters that are a fashion feature this season, you can retain the textured interest with just a little extra care. After sudsing, rinsing and blotting, lay the sweater flat (left) and beat with quick, light strokes, using a sponge or wash cloth. Your sweater will stay as fresh looking as this one.

Gene Gory And Roberta At Club Party Saturday

Gene Gory and Roberta, widely known professional entertainers will be featured at the Novelty Night party at the Escanaba Golf and Country Club Saturday evening. The party is open to members of the club and their guests.

Gene, a talented violinist, who was formerly with the Ziegfeld Follies, and Roberta, an interpretative dancer, will give the varied and extremely clever acts which have given them the characterization of "exponents of intellectual insanity."

Their appearance here was made possible by the fact that they are residents of Munising where they operate a summer resort business and are spending a short time in the Upper Peninsula.

Their accompanist tomorrow night will be Mrs. Edward H. Huener of Gladstone, who, professionally, is "Lalting Lil."

The party will begin at 9:30. Salad bar refreshments will be served.

Reservations may be made by calling 2929.

*Optional equipment, accessories, stock and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

WHY should you do yourself out of the big things in motoring life?

Why pass up the room and power and comfort and niceties of big-car travel — when you can buy a big, new Buick SPECIAL for just little more than the price of smaller cars?

We show our price here to prove our point — to prove that you can buy this Buick SPECIAL for just a few dollars more than you have to pay for one of the so-called "low-price three's."

Just a few dollars more for a lot bigger hoodful of power — Fireball 8 power — the highest horsepower ever placed in a Buick SPECIAL.

Just a few dollars more for big and spacious 6-passenger roominess — and the solid, steady comfort of Buick's famed Million Dollar Ride.

Just a few dollars more for Buick styling, Buick handling, Buick luxury, Buick fun.

But do you know what else those few extra dollars get you in this big, broad, beautiful Buick?

THE GREATEST BUICK IN 50 GREAT YEARS

They get you a long list of standard equipment at no extra cost that most other cars at or near its price charge you for, as extras — which makes our quoted price even lower than it looks.

We have the facts and figures to prove our points. All we need is you, at the wheel.

Drop in on us this week and see for yourself that your new-car money really buys big — in Buick.

Rural School Enrollment Up

A total of 867 children are enrolled in rural schools in Schoolcraft County this year according to a report from Mrs. Ludwig Hough, county school superintendent.

Enrollment in rural schools is 64 higher than last year, after correction of figures to show transference of Doyle township 7th and 8th grade classes to Manistique public schools, the superintendent notes.

One township, Thompson, showed no change from last year, and Cooks high school dropped by nine. Other schools, with the exception of Doyle, showed increases in enrollments varying from 4 to 30.

The figures by township are as follows:

Doyle	89*	83
Germfask	131	140
Hawatha	89	105
Manistique	113	128
Mueller	83	87
Seney	38	42
Thompson	26	26
Inwood—
Grades	130	160
High School	105	96
Totals	804	867

*Excluding 7th and 8th grade enrollments in 1952.

Combining the rural school enrollments with the Manistique Public School enrollment of 1133 and the Catholic school enrollment of 271 gives a total school population in the county of 2271.

The actual figure may vary somewhat however for some students in townships bordering other counties attend classes outside the county, and some students attend near Schoolcraft County attend its schools.

Inwood township offers grades one through twelve, and all others offer the first eight grades with exception of Doyle and Thompson. Doyle operates schools for the first six grades and Thompson the first five.

Art Is Taught In All Grades In City Schools

Art is taught in all grades, of the Manistique schools and under direction of Paul Eaton, art supervisor.

In all classes, including those in high school, students begin with simple rhythmic exercises and drawings. Through these exercises, they learn balance and emphasis in lines and colors. Each exercise is confined to a definite space, thereby aiding the acquiring of balanced arrangement.

Eaton says that every individual has a particular rhythm, which finds adequate form and individual expression in creative art.

When asked why a student is not given a concrete object to draw or paint, Eaton explained that most students are unable to grasp the principles of composition while concerned with representing realistic objects in a picture. The talented child has little difficulty but those of average ability have many problems confronting them. These include the problem of drawing many realistic objects, as well as the problems of where and how to arrange them, he noted.

To a casual observer, the exercises like the scribbles of a preschool child, but a glance at successive examples show a definite pattern, much the same as is observed in the progress of students learning to write, Eaton points out.

The exercises teach the student to be relaxed, to hold art tools in an easy manner, apply proper pressure, and smoothly blend related lines and designs, the art supervisor states.

In addition to supervising work in the grades, Eaton has two beginning classes and one advanced class in high school. Two students are taking third year art, an advanced course.

"Art is not taken by students in the high school with the thought that each student will be a future Turner and paint masterpieces of the skies, but rather to interest them from a cultural point of view, just as in music or literature, Eaton explains.

Manistique OES Members Leaving For Grand Rapids

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Taylor are leaving Saturday for Grand Rapids to attend a Star Light and Pansy session of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Taylor, who is grand electa for the OES, will attend a luncheon given by the Worthy Grand Matron, Mrs. Lorena Vanderstel, in Grand Rapids, preceding the session and her husband will serve as a guard in a tableaux honoring the grand electa. Sessions are slated Oct. 13, 14 and 15.

Mrs. George Shaw of Manistique, wife of a former past grand patron, and two Manistique OES delegates, Mrs. Arthur Thorpe and Mrs. Carleton Siddall, also will attend the Grand Rapids meeting.

PTA Structure, Aims Outlined

PTA organization and aims were outlined by Roger Smith of Manistique at the first meeting of the Lincoln-Riverside PTA Thursday night in the Lincoln school.

A pot luck supper arranged by Mrs. Robert Hoar, Mrs. Jack Soukup, Mrs. William Morden and Mrs. Dale Ott opened the session. Rev. Robert Roberts introduced teachers and guests, and presided at the business session which followed. The two-school PTA moved to adopt a budget of $300, and made preliminary plans for a carnival.

PTA Aims Discussed—Mrs. Benjamin Gero, Mrs. Mike Jones and Mrs. Joseph Davis were appointed to a by-laws committee, and members of the PTA were urged to participate in an adult education program which will begin at the high school Oct. 22.

A report by the membership chairman, Mrs. Raymond Burns indicated that the Lincoln-Riverside PTA now has 210 members and that its drive has not been completed.

Smith, who is president of the Manistique High School PTA, stressed that organization is necessary for success, and explained objectives of Parent-Teacher organizations. He displayed a chart enumerating the aims of PTA units in relation to child welfare, growth and education.

Hear Recordings—The principal speaker also pointed out that nationally the PTA has a membership of 7 million. Its policies and activities are decided by a National PTA Congress, which consists of all state PTA presidents and one delegate for each 1,000 PTA members, he said. Among programs which PTA is credited with instituting are the hot lunch programs in schools, he said.

Attendance awards at the first meeting were won by Mrs. John Manning's 3rd grade room at Lincoln School and Miss Margaret Nelsons 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade classes at Riverside school.

Group singing after the luncheon was led by J. Earl Cousineau, with Mrs. A. F. Hall as accompanist. Guests at the session included Supt. and Mrs. Arthur Hall and H. K. Bundy, a member of the school board, and Mrs. Bundy.

Also on the program Thursday were recordings of kindergarten children singing, playing in rhythm bands and speaking. Parents of these children later made recordings to be brought back to the classroom.

Inland Timekeeper Retires; Leaves For California

Orlando Ott, timekeeper for the Inland Lime and Stone company who retired Oct. 1, after 17 years service, left Thursday morning for an extended vacation in Chicago, Albion, Ind., and California.

Ott, who was presented a watch at a party given by Inland employees, will visit with a daughter, Mrs. John Neu, in Chicago, with a brother and two sisters in Indiana and with his son, Dallas Ott, in Oakdale, Calif.

Enroute for his West Coast vacation, the Manistique resident also will visit in Colorado with a friend who was a buddy of his when he served in the U. S. Navy. They were discharged in 1914.

Jack Beaudoin Draws Three-Year Probation

Jack Beaudoin, 54, of Gulliver, Wednesday was placed on probation for three years and forbidden to drive a motor vehicle for the rest of his life by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels at Sault Ste. Marie.

Beaudoin had been charged with manslaughter following an accident in which three people were killed June 29, 1952. He entered a plea of guilty when brought before Judge Runnels Dec. 22, 1952.

The case had been continued for sentence since that time because of the health of the defendant, who was seriously injured in the auto accident.

Charged With Manslaughter

According to reports of the Michigan State Police, Isaac Waldo, an elderly man from Oak Lake, Manit., Can., Mrs. Carl Yaworski, 42, of Alger, Manit., Can., and Hannah Catherine Walls, 68, of Pipestone, Manit., Can., were killed in the accident, which occurred on U. S. 2, four miles east of Gulliver.

Two persons, Carl Yaworski, of Alger, Manit., Can., and Beaudoin were injured. Beaudoin, police report had head, chest and other injuries, and Yaworski suffered fractures of the left leg and pelvis.

The charge of manslaughter lodged against Beaudoin was pressed in the name of Myrtle (Mrs. Carl) Yaworski. Beaudoin had been free on bond since his appearance in Circuit Court last December.

Permanently Disabled

In passing sentence Judge Runnels pointed out that at the time Beaudoin entered his plea of guilty it had been his (the judge's) intention to sentence him to 15 years in Marquette prison. He noted also that affidavits and personal testimony by Beaudoin's physician indictated that Beaudoin's physical condition did not permit his incarceration and that "it would be dangerous to his life because of existing physical conditions."

The case had been continued since in order that the court might determine if Beaudoin eventually would recover from the physical disability, Judge Runnels explained.

"It is now apparent to the court that you will be permanently disabled and that you must immediately submit to critical surgery at Ford Hospital," the Circuit Judge stated.

Good Probation Risk

Judge Runnels also informed Beaudoin that at the time the plea of guilty was accepted in the court, the Department of Corrections and Paroles had been requested to furnish the court with a probation report.

"The report was received by me and I will say it was extremely favorable to you. I have, from time to time, requested additional reports from the probation officers, as to your conduct. Since the accident all of these reports have been favorable," Judge Runnels stated.

"In fact, the recommendation of the Department of Corrections and Paroles strongly recommend that you be placed on probation for the reason that their determination has been that you are a good probation risk," the judge said.

Civil Damages Settled

The delays gave the court an opportunity to "get a line on just what sort of risk" Beaudoin would be, the judge noted. He added that "their advice to me was that nothing would be served by confining you in Marquette prison in your present physical condition and that such a sentence because of your condition would undoubtedly be injurious to your health."

The Inland timekeeper was 65 Sept. 25.

Also honored at the farewell party at Arrowhead Inn was A. L. Lavigne, who is retiring later this year. He also was presented a watch by Inland employees.

Sportsmen Hear
MUCC Secretary
At Meeting Here

Reasons for holding a director's meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs in Upper Michigan were outlined at a special meeting of the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club this week by Harry Gaines of Grand Rapids, MUCC secretary.

The director's meeting will be held in Escanaba Oct. 10 and 11th, and will be attended by Nels Halsey, Maerwin White, William Green and Leon Duquette of the Schoolcraft Club.

Gaines explained procedure to be followed at Escanaba, outlined the probable agenda and the program.

The Schoolcraft club declared itself strongly in favor of having Upper Michigan sportsmen determine what resolutions should be presented to the Conservation Department or state legislature on local fish or game regulations.

Among persons attending the session here were officials from Lansing, Newberry and the Manistique Conservation offices.

The director's meeting Saturday and Sunday in Escanaba is open to the general public and to all sportsmen, regardless of affiliation with the MUCC, it was pointed out at the session here.

Seven Manistique
PTA Members Go
To District Meet

Seven Manistique PTA members attended the district Parent-Teacher conference in Newberry Wednesday.

Principal speaker was Otto Yntema of Kalamazoo, state PTA treasurer. Theme of the conference was "How to Work in PTA."

During the sessions, Mrs. L. E. Wilson of Manistique announced that the state executive board, which also met this week at Newberry, had voted to select a site in Upper Michigan for a one-week conference next summer for training officers and council presidents.

Manistique residents attending were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Edward Ekdahl, Mrs. Roy Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Smith and Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Robart.

Roger Smith of Manistique gave a talk on PTA structure during the conference. Also on the program was Mrs. Charles W. Neldrett of Pontiac, director of district PTA service.

Car Flips; Spawr
And Wife Are Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spawr of Manistique were taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital with minor injuries after their car went off Highway M-94 near Aldrich Lake this morning at 2, Michigan State Police reported today.

State police, who are still investigating, said a fog was prevailing and the car missed a turn at the bottom of a hill and overturned.

Spawr, a state trooper assigned to the Manistique Post, was driving his own car, not a Michigan State Police car.

K-C Officers Will Be Installed At
Munising Saturday

Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus from Manistique Council No. 2026 will participate in installation ceremonies for U. P. officers of the fourth degree at Munising Saturday, Oct. 10.

It is expected the entire Manistique 4th degree assembly will attend.

The program at Munising, which begins with registration at 11 a. m., will include a 13-block parade by the Munising Legion drill team, the Munising band and the L'Anse Drum and Bugle Corps.

Principal speaker for the ceremony at 3 p. m., will be the Rev. Charles Carmody of Garden.

Manistique K-C officers who will be installed are D. J. Harrington, faithful navigator; Anton Weber, captain; L. E. Hambeau, admiral; Matt Kasun, pilot; Ted Hentschell, controller; Charles Havelchek, outside sentinel; L. J. Harbick, inside sentinel and Father F. M. Scheringer, faithful friar.

Officers for the nine Upper Michigan assemblies were elected in June.

They will be installed by Sir Knight Patrick L. Bennett of Marquette, master of the fourth degree in Upper Michigan. Harry St. Martin, faithful navigator for the Munising Fourth degree assembly there, is in charge of the arrangements.

3 Hurt In Auto
Crash Near Nahma

An Isabella girl and a girl from Garden are two of three people in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital today as the result of an auto collision Thursday night at 7:30 on Delta Co. Rd. L-7 between Nahma and St. Jacques, Michigan State Police of the Manistique Post reported this morning.

Louis Massey of Brutus, in Lower Michigan, was the most seriously injured with a broken left leg and broken ribs. Dianne Lester, 13, of Garden, suffered a broken wrist and bruises to her head and knee. Shirley Nadeau, 17, of Isabella, sustained an injured hand, an injured knee, and bruises.

State police said a preliminary investigation indicates Massey, driving west, pulled over in front of a car driven by Miss Lester, in which Miss Nadeau was a passenger. Massey was over the center line, they said.

Because the three were in the hospital state police were unable to talk to them immediately at sufficient length to complete their investigation.

No Magic Formula
For Peace, Speaker
Tells Homemakers

The Fall rally of Schoolcraft County Home Demonstration groups, held in Seney Township Hall Wednesday evening, proved to be one of the highlights of the year for these groups.

The meeting opened with group singing led by Mrs. Leonard Englund accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Clyde Hutt. A report by Mrs. Frank Arrowood on her trip to Toronto, Ont., to attend the Associated Country Women of the World Conference followed. Mrs. Arrowood informed the group that this organization was started in 1930 by a group of women interested in the welfare of rural people.

It was felt that much could be done to help rural women raise their standard of living.

Need Sense of Unity

Approximately 1,000 rural women from 26 nations met in Toronto this year to discuss mutual problems and to exchange views and ideas of common interest to all, the speaker stated.

"They learned at this conference that we live in a divided world and that no magic formula will bring peace to a tense and fearful world," she noted. "The problems are too deep for that."

As an association and as individuals, the Country Women of the World are committed to do something about what they believe, Mrs. Arrowood explained. The compelling need of our time, she said, is to bring some sense of unity to a chaotic world—to build spillways of understanding that channel emotions and feelings into constructive paths.

Influence of Women

"We have no alternative in this small world but to learn to live together," she emphasized.

Healthy differences of opinions were brought to the conference, as well as ability to compose differences, and determination to find a common meeting ground, the home extension speaker observed.

Women should never underestimate their influence as mothers and teachers and should keep in mind the saying, "Men make the road, but it is the women who teach children to walk on it," she emphasized.

In the last analysis, it will depend upon the women whether our civilization will be noble or ignoble, selfish or unselfish, grasping or self-sacrificing and capable of patience and courage at the same time, Mrs. Arrowood stated.

"The hopes that built the United Nations are always going to survive. Man's long struggle for freedom, justice and peace will go on. In the end it is the things of the spirit that will prevail," she concluded.

Pot Luck Lunch

C. J. Henry of the Seney Wildlife Refuge showed a collection of colored slides which included all types of animals, water fowl, wild flowers and beautiful scenery.

A report of Camp Shaw activities was presented by Mrs. Roy Archey, Mrs. G. Leslie Bouscher reported on the Homemakers Conference in Lansing, and Clayton Reid called attention to the Christmas lesson which will be given in October.

A pot luck lunch was served at the close of the meeting by the Seney Home Demonstration Group with Mrs. Ernest Tovey as chairman.

About 65 high school students attended the first meeting Wednesday.

Growers Must Follow
Rules To Get Price
Support On Wheat

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department today added a new condition for farmer eligibility to get a $2.20-a-bushel price support on next year's wheat crop.

The condition is this: Growers must comply not only with the government control program for wheat next year, but also with similar programs in effect for any other basic crops which they may grow on their farms.

Besides wheat, the basic crops are cotton, corn, rice, tobacco and peanuts.

Officials said the addition of this new condition is intended to prevent the diversion of land taken out of wheat into the production of another major crop.

Few Changes In Esky Lineup For Saturday

Only a few minor changes in his starting lineup were announced today by Coach Joe Milokna as his Escanaba Eskymos prepared to invade Iron Mountain's gridiron Saturday afternoon. Kickoff is at 3 (EST).

Dale Manske, who alternates at right half with Bob Bero, will get the starting assignment this week and Jim Beck, who shares quarterbacking duties with Mike Heminger, also gets the starting nod.

Remainder of the Eskymo lineup will be the same as started against Kingsford last Friday night. Tom Gregoire and Jim Bolm will flank the line. Dick Hansen and Jim Gerdeen will be at tackles, Jim Finn and Bob Ferguson at guards, Dick Johnson at center, Marshall Judson at left half and Don Dahlin at fullback.

A squad of 30 players will make the trip as the Eskymos seek their first win of the season. Added attractions will be the Upper Peninsula Cross Country championship run at halftime and a game between the Iron Mountain and Escanaba junior varsity teams at 12:30 (EST).

"Iron Mountain will be a tough hurdle and we'll have to put out everything we've got," Milokna said this morning. "The boys have worked hard in practice sessions this week and they know they have a battle coming up Saturday."

Iron Mountain enters the game with two wins and two losses this season. The Mountaineers have beaten Stephenson and Norway and lost to Menominee and Stambaugh.

Officials will be Thor Reque, and Ray Ranguette, of Manistique, and Norman Slough, Rapid River.

Karl Drews, pitcher for the Philadelphia Phillies, is six feet four and a half inches tall. His hobby? Playing basketball.

Big Ten Faces Rugged Weekend On Gridiron

CHICAGO (AP) — Big Ten football is in for a severe test of strength this week end in three rugged conference games and four inter-sectional contests.

Starting the heavy firing, Wisconsin's unbeaten Badgers invaded Los Angeles for an argument with UCLA tonight.

With fullback Alan Ameche running wild, the Badgers have trimmed Penn State, 20-0, and Marquette, 13-11, on successive Saturdays. UCLA is one of the west coast's top Rose Bowl favorites.

Three In Openers

Three teams will be making their Big Ten start Saturday. Northwestern, Michigan and Illinois. All are unbeaten, although the Illinois were held to a 21-21 tie by Nebraska.

Illinois plays at Ohio State and the Buckeyes rate as a 14-point choice. Ohio State crushed Indiana 36-12 in conference play and last week walloped California 33-19.

Northwestern, leading the nation in total offense with 993 yards in two games, is host to Minnesota. The odds-makers have made the Wildcats a three-point favorite after impressive victories over Iowa State and Army. The Gophers lost their first two starts, 17-7 to the 1953 Rose Bowl champion, Southern California, and 21-0 to Michigan State, the nation's No. 1 team last year.

Michigan Favored
Iowa is a 10-point underdog at Michigan. The Hawkeyes, after losing 21-7 to Michigan State, crushed Washington State last week 54-12. Michigan has made the most terrific start of all with victories of 50-0 over Washington and 26-7 over Tulane.

In non-league competition Marquette plays at Indiana, Texas Christian at Michigan State and Purdue at unbeaten Duke.

The favorites in this group are Duke by 21 points, and Michigan by 10. Marquette and Indiana are rated even.

There was a time when an Ivy League team would hesitate to schedule a Pacific Coast Conference team, but Pennsylvania entertains California at Philadelphia and it would not be considered an upset if the Quakers win.

Notre Dame, No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll, has an open date.

Oklahoma On Spot

In the Southwest, Oklahoma is on the spot. The Sooners were rated one of the top teams in the country before the season got under way. But they lost to Notre Dame, were tied by Pitt and dropped out of the top 10. They visit the high-scoring University of Texas for a key game.

Georgia Tech, unbeaten in 8 games—the longest skid without a defeat in the land—also must prove to the experts that it is as strong as it has been the past two years. The Ramblin' Wrecks, with a tie and a two-point victory to show in their last two efforts, take on Tulane.

Maryland, which could turn out to be the power of the South even without Jack Scarbath, has a date with pass-minded Georgia. Another big one in Dixie is the Auburn-Mississippi State set. Auburn, for many a year one of the South's doormats, has the folks in its neck of the woods all excited.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
12 — Friday, October 9, 1953

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

You'll find an odd situation in the recent games between Escanaba and Iron Mountain grid teams, as listed in the school series elsewhere on the page. In the past seven seasons, Escanaba has been unable to win in the "odd" years. If the trend holds true to form, it's Iron Mountain's turn to win this year.

Manistique gridders will be facing a "toe" in tonight's game with Sault Ste. Marie. Soo's Gary Tucker is one of the most reliable place kickers in action in the Upper Peninsula. The Blue Devil quarterback set a school record for accuracy by kicking six straight points after touchdown last week as Soo buried Marquette 42-6. He has 13 conversions for the season. And he's been practicing for field goals this week too.

Escanaba will be facing the two biggest tackles in the Upper Peninsula at Iron Mountain tomorrow afternoon. John Rosenau and Anthony Occhetti, Mountaineer starters, each tips the scales at 235 pounds.

Here's another rumor circulating in the U. P. football background. Omer LaJeunesse, who has been coaching Iron Mountain football teams for as long as we can remember, is considering hanging up his spikes after this season.

And what's this about Crystal Falls thinking of dropping the St. Joe game from its football slate in the near future? If all the schools we've heard are contemplating it drop St. Joe, the Trojans will be playing only four games a year.

Up in Iron Mountain, Ray Mariucci is already starting a boxing training program in preparation for the Golden Gloves tournament. Boxing interest is way down in the Iron Mountain area and Mariucci is appealing to young men to join his training center at Izzo's gymnasium. Mariucci is a former Michigan State College boxer.

Soo and Menominee are rated the top choices for honors in the Upper Peninsula cross country run Saturday at Iron Mountain. Soo has won the Class B crown the past two years. Menominee took the title four straight years beginning in 1946.

Manistique Makes Big Bid To Trip Up Sault Tonight

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Emeralds will be at their strongest for the clash tonight with the Soo Blue Devils. Coach Richard Bonifas said today.

For the first time since the Stephenson game, the Emeralds will have at least two men available at every position, and a slightly revised line-up will be used in an attempt to cope with the Soo's manpower depth.

On offense, Gerald Walstrom will be used as left guard, giving the Emeralds an additional 35 pounds where it is needed most, the coach reports and Warren LaBar and Jim Cowman will go in as defensive linebackers. They are well-rested and should improve the Emeralds' defense considerably, he adds.

Bertrand Is Ready

Darryl Bertrand is in excellent shape and will play tailback in the game here tonight at Hall Stadium. Bertrand's running has looked very good the past week, Coach Bonifas points out, and using him with Bill Holmes will give the Emeralds a more dangerous running attack.

Clair Taylor Refuses To Reinstate Athletes

LANSING (AP)—Clair L. Taylor, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, today refused to reinstate 10 high school athletes who had been declared ineligible for accepting merchandise prizes.

Taylor conducted a rehearing of the cases of six youths from Hastings, two from Escanaba and one each from Menominee and St. Clair Sept. 28.

"The only way that the boys can become eligible," Taylor said, "is to have the rule changed or have the school officials of the respective schools petition the Superintendent of Public Instruction to reinstate these boys."

Afraid Of Precedent
"To honor such petitions for reinstatement would simply mean the waiving of the awards rule which would tend to establish a precedent by which any school, wishing to do so, could petition the Superintendent of Public Instruction, in case any boys on athletic teams should be ineligible, and I would almost be duty bound to grant reinstatement."

"In my opinion, this would be a dangerous precedent and would not be conducive to well-organized high school athletics."

"I therefore deny the request for reinstatements by the Boards of Education."

Taylor said that a careful study of the transcript of the rehearing at which nine of the boys testified showed "no new evidence has been uncovered that would make it possible for me to declare the boys eligible."

In all cases except Menominee, the school boards had formally requested reinstatement for their students.

Needs Thorough Study
In his statement, the state superintendent said that the case emphasized that the awards rule as well as others need a "thorough study."

He said he would appoint a committee of school officials and laymen in a few days to study the

Terry Moore Fights Willie Troy Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Terry Moore hopes to make good in a substitute's role tonight when he faces walloping Willie Troy in a televised 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

The 24-year old, 5-8 Moore has the hustling, short-punching style which could cause plenty of trouble for the 21-year old, six foot Troy. Willie, a standup-fighter, likes to bang at long range.

rules and make recommendations by Dec. 1.

Affected by the decision were Robert Anderson, Bernard Bowman, Jack Chadwick, Richard Hammond, Tony Hoffman and Shannon Lydy of Hastings High School, William LeMire, Escanaba High School; David Hirn, Escanaba St. Joseph's High School; Donald Murwin, Menominee High School, and Walter La Croix, St. Clair High School.

Montreal Cops Little World Series Crown

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Montreal Royals today held the Little World Series title for the first time since 1948.

Blasting out 13 hits, the Royals Thursday night defeated Kansas City 7-2 to cop the series four games to one.

The win gave the Brooklyn Dodger organization a little consolation over the Brooks' World Series defeat by the New York Yankees. Montreal is the International League farm club of the Dodgers. Kansas City is a Yankee farm team.

Duke Snider, Al Rosen Lead Baseball Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP) — Brooklyn's Duke Snider and Al Rosen of the Indians got the most mileage out of their base hits during 1953.

Final figures computed by The Associated Press reveal that Snider barely edged young Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee, 6271 to 6269, to top the National League in slugging. Rosen produced 367 total bases in 599 at bats and easily garnered slugging honors in the American League with a .613 mark.

Snider's booming bat accounted for 370 total bases in 590 trips to the plate. The 27-year-old outfielder's 198 hits included 38 doubles, 4 triples and 42 home runs. Mathews, the National League home run leader, amassed 363 total bases in 579 at bats. Among his 175 hits were 31 doubles, 8 triples and 47 homers.

How To Figure
Slugging averages are determined by dividing the total bases on all hits by the number of times at bat.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals finished fourth this season with 609, two points behind Brooklyn's Roy Campanella in third with .607. Carl Furillo, also of the Dodgers, was fifth at .576.

Braves' Captain May Be Out For Ishpeming Grid Clash Saturday

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves meet Ishpeming here at Marble Athletic Field Saturday afternoon and yesterday it appeared doubtful if Capt. Duane Peterson would be able to play.

Peterson was injured in the grueling Newberry battle and his hurts have not responded to treatment in proper manner.

Center Rod Kelley and Tackle Ed Farrell also were hurt but will be on deck Saturday.

Francis Peterson, Brave quarterback, has looked sharp in practice this week. Blocking on a whole has not been up to par.

While Ishpeming is still looking for victory after dropping games to Marquette, Negaunee and Calumet, Coach Don Potenhauer is looking for a tough game.

"Ishpeming is capable of 'going' once they start and it just might be that they'll get going against us," declared the local mentor.

If Capt. Peterson is unable to play, his end will be given to either Larry Feldt or John Quinn while Jack Beach will be at the other end. Tackles will be Bob Sandstrom and Ed Farrell, Guards Dick Rivers and Tom Brewer with

Eddie Chambers of Crystal Falls, A. W. Cummings of Kingsford and Myles Finnegan of Norway will handle the game.

Crystal Falls To Face Full Strength Trojans

The Trojans meet the Trojans tomorrow night at Memorial Field gridiron. Kickoff for the St. Joe-Crystal Falls clash will be at 8.

Coach Tom St. Germain's St. Joe grid team will be at full strength for the first time this season, with regulars slated for starting assignments at all positions.

Stan Venne, left tackle, has recovered from an arm injury and will be in the line for the kickoff.

He will team at tackle with Leroy Villeneuve. Dick Cass will be at left end with John Berrigan and Dick Bryson alternating at the right flank. Bob Rademacher and Dick Moreau will start at guards, Arnold Henriksen at center, Jerry McDonough at quarterback, Bill Lancour at left half, Bill Maycunich at fullback and Gary Guertin and Bob Rodman will alternate at right half.

St. Joe will be seeking win No. 5 of the season and the fourth in succession against Crystal Falls. The Trojans have run up three straight over Bark River, Lourdes and Norway. They edged Gladstone 6-0 in the season's opener and lost 26-0 to Stambaugh.

Crystal Falls, coached by Wally Hirsch, has a 2-2 record for the season. The Iron County Trojans have wins over Bark River and L'Anse and have lost to Bessemer and Norway.

Crystal Falls flashed a strong offense in its last start, a 31-12 victory over L'Anse. The Trojans use an effective long passing game in the air and have a strong runner in left halfback Harry Peterson.

Other starting backs on the Crystal Falls team are Sam Kack, quarterback; Max Woelfler, fullback, and John Tessaro, right half.

Lane Will Stay With White Sox

CHICAGO (AP) — Baseball's super salesman, Frank Lane, is remaining in the Chicago White Sox fold after completing the season's best squeeze play. He has turned down an offer from the Baltimore Orioles.

Lane probably has emerged with a new White Sox contract calling for a salary or bonus boost and good for five years.

The White Sox general manager reportedly has been working under a $35,000-a-year contract with a bonus clause paying five cents for every paid admission over one million. On this basis, he made as high as $51,411 in 1951 when the Sox drew a record 1,328,234 home attendance.

Neither Lane nor club president Mrs. Grace Comiskey would confirm that Lane got a better contract but it is significant that the rejected offer of the Orioles was said to be a $50,000 salary on a five-year pact, plus a bonus and a block of stock.

MICHIGAN STATE TAX COMMISSION OFFICIAL ORDER

WHEREAS, the assessment roll for the City of Gladstone, in the County of Delta, for the year 1953, has heretofore been made by the assessing officer of said City and reviewed by the regularly constituted Board of Review of said City; and

WHEREAS, the said assessment roll is now subject to inspection by the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission of the State of Michigan, or by any Commissioner of said Commission; and

WHEREAS, claim has been made to the Commissioners of the State Tax Commission by the Delta Coal & Dock Company that their real property located in the City of Gladstone has not been assessed in compliance with law, and that such compliance cannot be secured except by a review of said assessment roll;

THEREFORE, said Commissioners of the State Tax Commission have determined to review the assessments upon their own initiative as well as upon the complaint filed in the matter; it is

THEREFORE ORDERED, that in accordance with the provisions of Section 211.152, C. L. 1946, said assessment roll containing the assessed valuation of the real property in the City of Gladstone shall be subject to review, and the assessor of the City of Gladstone be and he is hereby required to appear in the County Court-house, Escanaba, at 11:00 A. M., Eastern Standard Time, on Friday, October 16, 1953, and have with him at the aforesaid place the assessment roll of said City for the year 1953; and it is

FURTHER ORDERED, that a public hearing be held in the County Court-house in the City of Escanaba, Michigan, beginning at 11:00 A. M., Eastern Standard Time, on Friday, October 16, 1953, and that the taxpayers mentioned above, or their representative, enter appearance at that time, and it is FURTHER ORDERED, that the Commissioners of said State Tax Commission, or any Commissioner thereof, shall hear and determine as to the proper assessment of the real property of the above named taxpayers located in said City, subject to a valid reason, and take such action as will correct any irregularities that may be found in the assessment of said property.

FURTHER ORDERED, that due notice be given of said hearing in accordance with the provisions of the WITNESS MY HAND and the Seal of the State Tax Commission, this 5th day of October, A. D. 1953.

Air Big Source Of Fertilizers

WASHINGTON — One of the world's fastest-growing industries uses ordinary air as its main raw material. Its product is that extraordinary element, nitrogen.

In hundreds of different forms, nitrogen works for man. It makes high explosives for peace and war. Chemistry and manufacturing use it in many new ways. But its most important job by far is in fertilizers that enrich the earth.

"Synthetic nitrogen," the industry calls its products. Their output is increasing rapidly all over the world, the National Geographic Society reports. For the first time in history, nitrogen fertilizer plants operate in every inhabited continent. Africa now has a factory in Egypt, producing a quarter-million tons of fertilizers-from-air annually.

95% Is Man-Made

Today 95 percent of fertilizer nitrogen, nearly 5,000,000 tons this year, is man-made. Yet 40 years ago science did not know how to take it from the air.

Invisible, tasteless, and odorless, there are four pounds of nitrogen for every pound of oxygen in the atmosphere. But food crops obtain their main supply of essential nitrogen - bearing nutrients from the soil instead of the air.

The path between the two is a difficult one, for nitrogen is among the most stable of elements - it combines or is "fixed" into plant foods only under certain conditions.

Lightning marries nitrogen to oxygen, and rain carries a hundred million tons of valuable fixed nitrogen down to earth and sea each year. Barnyard fertilizers supply additional nitrogen, and U. S. farmers spread a billion tons of it annually. Some plants, such as the legumes, take nitrogen directly from the air; they may be plowed under as "green manure." But intensive farming and erosion usually depletes the nitrogen supply in the soil faster than it can be replenished.

Until World War I, the only source of nitrates for supplementary fertilizers lay in the high, arid pampas of northern Chile. From vast natural deposits of nitrate of soda, Chile supplied the whole world.

Man-made Lightning

Then scientists found a way to take nitrates directly from air. To do it, they used artificial lightning—an inferno of electric sparks. The story of their feat stretches from Scandinavia to Germany to Muscle Shoals in this country, and then to hundreds of air nitrate plants the world over.

New methods have been developed since then. One uses natural gas from the oil fields of the Southwest to produce ammonia, a compound of nitrogen and hydrogen. Now this humble household cleaner is rapidly becoming a fertilizer in its own right. Farmers pump it into irrigation water or inject it directly into the soil with knifelike nozzles to speed growth of crops.

Nitrogen itself has become an amazing jack-of-all-trades. In gaseous form it protects vitamins and vegetable shortenings during processing, inflates plastic toys, pressurizes coffee cans and telephone cables. High-pressure nitrogen pumped fuel into the rocket engines of the first plane to surpass the speed of sound. Liquid nitrogen, offering a temperature of 320 degrees below zero, freezes face powder, plastics, drugs, and spices for finer grinding in various manufacturing processes.

There is small chance that the world's supply of nitrogen will ever fail. Plant life supplies it to the atmosphere, but even if this were not the case, the air now contains about 4,650,000,000,000 tons of nitrogen—enough to last 930,000,000 years at the present rate of consumption.

Soviet Press Gives Public Scoldings

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP)—One of the most interesting features of the Soviet press is the letters column, where people who are deemed to need it are given public scoldings.

One day it may be the directors of the razor blade industry who catch the dinkens for turning out dull and flimsy blades.

Another day the hat and shoe designers get a lashing for failing to obey Premier Georgi Malenkov's orders to turn out smart as well as serviceable head and foot gear.

Now many a Western heart would likely beat in sympathy with a Moscow lady named V. Aleinikova who recently wrote to the newspaper Evening Moscow to unburden herself of a grievance against the city's television repair men.

Frustrated televiewer Aleinikova wrote:

"Our television set stopped working. We asked a specialist from shop No. 3 of the radio trust. He did not find the cause of the trouble, but specialist Yermolinsky did not forget to collect 23 rubles (5.75) for the call. Then we made a second call to the same shop. This time they sent specialist Smirnov. He collected 48 rubles ($12) from us, but Smirnov also did not repair the television set. Next they sent us specialist Shorin. He demanded 33 rubles (8.25) for his "work". But the television set is still not working."

The editors of Evening Moscow were sympathetic with Mrs. Aleinikova. In addition to publishing her letter they tossed in a cartoon depicting a particularly dopey-looking repairman ineptly tinkering with a television set.

Food has two functions, first to supply energy to the body and second to build up tissues in growth or when they are worn out.

Strange Shrimp Live In Desert

WASHINGTON—High on the list of aquatic oddities is the desert shrimp, a little crustacean that breathes through its feet, swims upside down, and lives a mere 40 days after a two-year hatching period.

Apus, as it is scientifically known, inhabits many sections of the western United States, says the National Geographic Society. Astonished anglers, seining for minnows in a rainwater pond near Panhandle, Texas, recently netted scores of the strange creatures. California ricefields are occasionally damaged by them, and they have been observed in parts of Europe.

Hardy Eggs

Apus lives and breeds in stagnant pools which evaporate in summer months and refill in the rainy seasons. According to crustacea experts, many swarms of desert shrimps contain no males; females reproduce by parthenogenesis. Before hatching, eggs must undergo alternate periods of soaking and drying for at least two years.

Often shrimp eggs will remain dormant for years, awaiting suitable conditions for hatching. Eggs deposited in evaporated ponds are sometimes carried by the wind or on the legs of birds to other water-holes hundreds of miles distant. Apus was discovered in an English lake in 1850. It did not appear again in the British Isles until 1907, when it turned up in a Scottish millpond. Because it appears only sporadically, the animal has no commercial value.

Horseshoe Shape

The desert shrimp looks like a miniature horseshoe crab. A member of the Notostraca or shell-back family of fresh-water life, it averages 1½ to 3 inches long. Its shell covers the front half of the body, and the eyes protrude at the bend of the shell. It has a narrow, flexible tail with twin feelers at the tip. There are two other feelers in the head.

For swimming, the shrimp manipulates numerous little feet like oars. Each foot has a gill plate which serves as a respiratory organ.

During its brief 40-day life span, the desert shrimp stays close to the lake bottom, usually lying on its back in the silt. Occasionally it ventures forth to feed on soft insect larvae or organic mud.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

is my wandering
ad tonight?

That's a fair question and deserves a factual answer. When you buy newspaper advertising you have an investment in every copy of the paper that carries your sales message because the circulation of the newspaper is also the circulation of your advertising. So, what you get in return for your advertising dollars depends on the newspaper's circulation. In order that you may buy space in this newspaper as you would make any sound business investment, we hold membership in the Audit Bureau of Circulations,* well known to advertisers and publishers as A.B.C. Only publications with paid circulation—evidence that people want the paper—are eligible for membership.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office to make a thorough audit of our circulation records. The FACTS that he obtains as a result of the audit are published in A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; Where it goes; How obtained; How much people pay for our paper, and many other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

It's never necessary for our advertisers to ask, "Oh, where is my wandering ad?" They get the FACTS from our A.B.C. report and KNOW. Ask for a copy today.
